Strategy To Begin Tomorrow Ike, Anglo Chief To Meet at Camp

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrived here today for four days of strategy talks with President Eisenhower on the German situation.

The jet airliner bringing the British leader from Ottawa sat down at 11:57 a.m. EST.

Nixon, Herter on Hand

Vice President Nixon and Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter led a delegation of American officials who greeted Macmillan at the Military Air Terminal.

An Army security detachment and a color guard ringed the airport.

Macmillan was accompanied by a 29-member delegation which included Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

First Comet in Capital

Their British Overseas Airways Comet airliner, the first to land in Washington, arrived ahead of schedule.

The plane circled the airport for about 30 minutes so that Macmillan's appearance would be at the scheduled time.

Eisenhower and Macmillan will begin their talks Friday. If the weather is good, they will fly by helicopter to Camp David, arriving at lunch time.

Will Ride Together

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, in reporting this today, said Eisenhower and Macmillan will ride together.

Camp David is Eisenhower's retreat in the Catskill Mountains of Maryland. It is about 65 miles from here.

Four officials from each side will accompany the two leaders.

In the U.S. group will be Herter, John H. Whitney, ambassador to London; Livingston Merchant, assistant secretary of state for European affairs; and Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpastor, White House staff secretary.

Urges Flexible Policies

Accompanying Macmillan will be Lloyd, Sir Harold Caccia, British ambassador to Washington; Sir Norman Brook, secretary of the Cabinet; and Sir Frederick Hoyer Millar, permanent under-secretary of the foreign office.

It is expected that Macmillan will urge Eisenhower to join him in working out more flexible Western policies for forthcoming negotiations with Russia.

The two will go into their weekend of conferences firmly agreed on the need to resist Soviet threats and pressures aimed at forcing the Western powers out of Berlin.

But they are clearly divided on a number of issues involved in preparing for negotiations with the Soviets.

Confident of Visits

Before heading to Washington from Ottawa, Macmillan expressed confidence his visits to the two capitals "will serve to consolidate and confirm the united will of the Western world."

Eisenhower called Acting Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

'58 Tax Runs $47 Per Smoker, Says Local Wholesaler

"Last year, every American cigarette smoker paid over $47 for federal, state and municipal excise taxes on cigarettes," it was reported by J. Richard Naigles, treasurer of Standard-Rosenbaum, Inc., of this city.

While underscoring the role of the tobacco industry in helping to finance national and local government activities, Mr. Naigles announced that he will be one of the delegates from this area to the 27th annual Convention and Merchandising Fair of the National Association of Tobacco Distributors, April 5-10, at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago, Ill.

"Some 10,000 wholesalers, manufacturers and retailers from all parts of the country, Canada, Alaska and South Africa, will participate," he added.

He reported also that on the basis of a recent NATD survey, a total of $2,500,000 was paid by American smokers for federal and state excise taxes during the 1958 fiscal year. This total was equal to total expenditures that year for atomic energy development on the one hand, or to total appropriations for the State, Labor, Commerce and Post Office Departments.

Mr. Naigles will be accompanied by Mrs. Naigles at the Chicago Convention.

ADMINISTER TO DRIVER PINNED IN TRUCK—Dr. Harry C. McNamara of Hurley (partially obscured by wreckage) administers first aid to Ralph Kissel, 31, of Evans Mills, who was injured fatally when the tractor trailer he was driving left the southbound lane of the Thruway at 1:05 a. m. today, about five miles south of the Kingston interchange, and struck a tree. Assisting Dr. McNamara is Frank Fatum of Fatum Ambulance Service as Gilbert Gray, ambulance driver, stands ready to offer aid. Kissel, who was pinned in the tractor cab, died within a half-hour and it required two hours to extricate his body from the cab, according to Coroner Francis J. McCordle. (Anner photo.)

Pinned by 20-Ton Load

Driver Dies in Truck That Leaves Thruway

The driver of a southbound tractor-trailer died in the twisted wreckage of his cab early this morning minutes after the vehicle left the Thruway some five miles south of Kingston.

Ralph Kissel, 31, of Evans Mills, was pinned in a tangled mass of steel when the tractor-trailer smashed head-on into a large tree, died about 20 or 30 minutes after the mishap as workers sought vainly to release him.

Might Have Dosed

Coroner Francis J. McCordle, who was called to the scene, said Thruway authorities are of the belief that Kissel was dosing at the wheel.

He explained that the huge tractor-trailer, loaded with 20 tons of cardboard, had left the Thruway almost 300 feet before it smashed into the tree. The wheel tracks diverged very gradually to the point where the vehicle plunged down an embankment into a gully and up a steep slope on the other side, coming to rest against the tree.

Load Crushes Cab

The load in the trailer pitched forward and crushed the cab, pinning the lower portion of Kissel's body. The upper part of his body had been thrown forward and was free of the wreckage.

The tractor-trailer, owned by Buckley Express, Carthage, was southbound from Carthage. Its destination was not indicated.

By coincidence, Trooper Roy Tullison of the Thruway police happened to be passing a few minutes after the mishap. Coroner McCordle told The Freeman.

He discovered the vehicle at 1:10 a. m. He was alone in the patrol car. There were apparently no witnesses to the accident.

Estimates Time

Trooper Tullison estimated that the accident occurred about 1:05 a. m., figuring it this way: He discovered the vehicle against the tree at about the same time a truck was passing, traveling south. The driver of the truck stopped. He told Trooper Tullison that the tractor-trailer had just passed him a few miles back, possibly five minutes earlier. The mishap could not have occurred more than five minutes before Trooper Tullison found it, therefore.

It required two hours to free Kissel from the cab.

Trooper Tullison told the coroner.

Senate Leaders Skeptical Of Bill to Curb Allstate

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Staff Writer
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Senate leaders took a skeptical look today at a bill passed by the assembly in a move to curb the giant Allstate Insurance Co.

While the Senate leaders would not predict the measure's fate, they said it was by no means assured of passage in their house.

The bill, one of several approved Wednesday, would bar mail-order and other retail companies from selling motor vehicle and other liability insurance. It also would prevent use of their property for such sales.

The bill's sponsor, Assemblyman William R. Brennan (D-Queens) said it was aimed at Allstate, a subsidiary of Sears Roebuck Co. Several assemblymen maintained that Allstate was slow in settling claims and did not give proper service.

Opponents of the measure maintained that lawyers and insurance men among assembly members had business grievances against Allstate. No members were mentioned by name.

In Skokie, Ill., Allstate's headquarters, the bill was introduced.

Education Board, 50 Committee to Convene Tonight

The Greater Kingston School Board of Education and its advisory group, the Committee of Fifty, will meet tonight at the high school—both separately and jointly.

The board will convene at 7 p. m., the Committee of Fifty at 8 p. m. Following the meeting of the Committee of Fifty the two groups will join in a conference with William Switzer, project engineer for Perkins & Will, architectural firm, to discuss school building plans and costs.

The board will consider two items: (1) The election of two members of the board in the annual election Tuesday, May 5, and (2) The drafting of a proposed building proposition for submission in a public referendum.

It will discuss the laying out of voting districts, appointment of a board of registration, consisting of about 20 persons, etc.

It will sit with Switzer to work out the proposition, including space allocations in the proposed building plans, and their costs.

The Committee of Fifty will consider a slate of candidates for the board of education which will be submitted by a special committee appointed about two months ago. It is believed that eight names will be recommended.

Assembly Passes Wilson Bill Saving City Money On Bypass Rights of Way

The Kingston boundary bill under which the City of Kingston will be relieved of participating in the cost of rights of way for construction of the Route 209 bypass, was passed yesterday afternoon in the New York State Assembly. Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson has reported.

A companion bill, introduced in the Senate by Senator E. Ogden Bush, is expected to pass the Senate, possibly today. Wilson said. It then goes to the governor for signature.

The measure will change a section of the western boundary line of Kingston, eliminating about 46.8 acres which is mostly agricultural and pasture lands, thus relieving the City of Kingston of the cost of acquiring rights of way in connection with the realignment of Route 209.

The boundary change was required because of plans to cut through an oxbow curve in the Esopus creek west of the city for the bypass alignment.

At a recent special meeting of Common Council, a home rule message to Albany pertinent to the change in the boundary line was authorized and sent to the legislature through Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson. The home rule message was necessary before the legislature could take action.

A proposed change in the Esopus Creek where it makes an oxbow turn, Assemblyman Wilson said, "created a problem for the City of Kingston in connection with the acquisition of rights of way for a portion of the new route." To save the taxpayers of the city extra costs, Wilson sought advice from the State Department of Public Works about a plan whereby the cost would not be borne by the city.

They studied the various methods of procedure. Special legislation was discarded because "such legislation usually becomes controversial."

A minute change in the charter of the City of Kingston was recommended to provide the necessary relief to the city, a method which has been taken in numerous instances throughout the state. After the bill was introduced last January, a legal technicality was noted and after a conference with Assemblyman Wilson, Mayor Edwin W. Radel, Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly, and County Attorney Arthur A. Davis Jr., a revised change in the boundary resulted and the amended bill was presented as passed yesterday in the assembly.

Valenti Insists Visit Made to See Sick Man

Sentence Ordered Forthwith In Hot Exchanges

Fred D. Shaver, 63, former town superintendent of highways of the Town of Hardenbergh, was sentenced to five days in the county jail today for criminal contempt of court. Shaver was charged with declining to give testimony before the special grand jury on March 17 after he had been granted immunity from prosecution by the special grand jury.

Under a show cause order entered Wednesday Shaver, a resident of Turnwood and former town superintendent of the Town of Hardenbergh for three terms from 1950 to Dec. 31, 1956, appeared before Justice Greenberg at 10:30 a. m. today with his counsel Joseph Hill.

Lies Charged

During the proceedings in court there were violent conflicts between Hill and Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins with charges of "lies" being hurled from both camps.

In sentencing Shaver to jail, Justice Greenberg said the contempt by Shaver was the most "flagrant" he had ever seen and his refusal to even give his name and address to the grand jury bordered on "flippancy."

Jailed Immediately

"The time had come when witnesses must cooperate in the grand jury investigation," Justice Greenberg said. He directed that the sentence begin "forthwith" and Shaver was turned over to the custody of Sheriff Bell and sentence directed to begin "forthwith."

During the conflict between counsel, Special Prosecutor Tompkins revealed that Joseph Hill, Shaver's counsel, is to appear before the special grand jury at 12:30 today.

It was intimated by Tompkins that Hill will be questioned about his retention as counsel by Shaver.

At Saranac Lake, John Morgan, a Republican, and John Campion, a Democrat, each polled 1,026 votes Tuesday for a seat on the Board of Trustees.

At a board meeting Wednesday night, a deck of cards was spread on a table. Morgan turned over a jack of hearts. Campion drew an eight of hearts.

The GOP continues its 3-2 control of the board.

At Pulaski, Kenneth Stowell, a Republican, and Robert Murtha, a Democrat, each received 256 votes in a mayoralty election. The Democrats never before had offered a candidate.

Stowell and Murtha agreed to a drawing from a fish bowl Wednesday.

Stowell won. He succeeds James Walker, a fellow-Republican who did not seek reelection.

Railroad Is Favored In $80,000 Suit for Death of Truck Driver

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—An $80,000 negligence suit involving the death of a truck driver has been settled in favor of the New York Central Railroad.

A State Supreme Court jury returned a verdict Wednesday night against the Volvo Brass & Copper Co. and Spring Motors Distributors, both of Kenilworth, N. J.

The jury dismissed a $17,500 counter claim by the companies.

Leon Tripodi, 44, of Kenilworth, was killed last March when his truck and a Central freight collided at a crossing near here.

Spring Motor owned the truck and Volvo owned the shipment.

Still pending is a $200,000 suit against the railroad by Tripodi's widow.

To Sentence Four April 1 for Holdup

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (AP)—Four men will be sentenced April 1 for the holdup of 30 guests at a stag party last December.

Three of the men pleaded guilty to first-degree grand larceny charges in Ontario County Court Wednesday.

They are Robert T. Forbes, 24, and Sheldon Weisberg, 26, both of Long Beach; and Louis Simeone, 31, of Geneva.

They were accused along with Louis Coluzzi, 29, of Queens, of holding up a party at a grill in Geneva. Coluzzi pleaded guilty earlier.

Forbes and Coluzzi were arrested at the scene. Coluzzi was wounded trying to get away from police.

The other two men were arrested the next day at their homes. Police recovered $1,450.

Philandering Theory

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Anthony Pizzi, assistant county prosecutor, believes the dwindling value of the dollar is responsible for a rise in complaints about husbands running around with other women. With purchasing power curtailed, he theorized, money spent in philandering is reflected quickly in the family budget and the wives become suspicious. Maybe, he ventured, "the amount of chasing around is about the same as always."

Paying Your Income Tax

May Claim $600 Exemption On Each Dependent in Tax

Editor's Note: Each dependent you can claim shrinks your taxable income by $600. So it's important for you to know just whom you're entitled to list on your federal return. The following article, fourth of five stories on the income tax, gives you the ground rules.

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—In filing your 1958 income tax return, be sure you take a $600 exemption for every dependent you can justly claim. For each it means $600 off your income before what's left is taxed.

Who's a dependent? He could be your own child, a relative, or even a friend. But the rules are different for different kinds of dependents.

You can claim as a dependent your own child, adopted child or stepchild if he got more than half his support from you in 1958 and even if—provided he was under 19—he had $600 or more income of his own.

If your under-19 child had that much income he would, of course, have to file his own return and claim his own $600 exemption.

But—Since he was under 19 and got more than half his support from you, you could still claim him as a dependent on your return, take a $600 exemption for him, and not even have to include his income in yours.

Further: That child wouldn't have had to live with you in 1958, so long as you provided more than half his support. For example: You may have been separated from your wife and the child may have been living with her.

But if you had a child 19 years or older, you could not claim him as a dependent, even though you provided more than half his support, if he had $600 or more income—unless he was a fulltime student.

Extra $600 Denied
No child—except the taxpayer's own—can be claimed as a dependent if he had $600 income, regardless of his age or status as a student. And you can't claim for a dependent an extra $600 exemption because he was blind or over 65.

(Note, this, too: If your child, stepchild or adopted child received a school scholarship, it is not considered in figuring whether you provided more than half his support.)

Support, in the case of a dependent, includes money spent on food, shelter, clothing, education, medical and dental care, entertainment, transportation and other necessities.

As for relatives you want to claim as dependents:

You can claim as a dependent a person related to you—the kind of relationship is given below—if he did not have $600 or more income and got more than half his support from you. Such a dependent relative, unlike the dependent friend, would not have had to live in your house during the year.

For example: You may have provided more than half the support for your widowed mother who is living with your sister.

But note this: When anyone is trying to determine whether he had enough income to require his filing a tax return, there are certain kinds of nontaxable income which he does not have to report or include. Example: Social Security benefits, life insurance proceeds, armed forces family allotments, and so on.

Permitted in Claim
These are the relatives you can claim as dependents if the other requirements are met:

Your child or his child (a legally adopted child is considered your child; your stepchild but not his child; your brother; sister; half-sister; stepbrother; stepsister; your parents; grandparents (but not foster-parents); your stepfather or stepmother; a brother or sister of your father or mother; a son or daughter of your brother or sister; your father-in-law; your mother-in-law; son-in-law; daughter-in-law; brother-in-law; or sister-in-law.

One thing more: You can claim as a dependent only a person who is a citizen or resident of this country or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Canal Zone of the Republic of Panama.

Tomorrow: Figuring your deductions.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MARCH 19, 1959

WELCOME, HAWAII, WELCOME

Once the ice (and we do mean ice) was broken with Alaskan statehood, the national sentiment for adding Hawaii as the nation's 50th state was overwhelming.

That Congress has put final seal upon this act is something we can herald as we did the addition of Alaska as our 49th star. It is one more bright proof that America still has its expansive spirit, that it can embrace the new, undertake wider challenges.

This time we will be taking in a fabled string of beautiful islands some 2,600 miles into the Pacific off the California shore.

On this chain, and especially on the populous isle of Oahu, site of Honolulu, a healthy growing economy can be found. Altogether they hold some 600,000 people, and great racial mixture reflecting heavy native Hawaiian and Oriental strains.

Hawaii long has been one of the outer bastions of American defense. None of us will ever forget that it took the first great tragic blow from the Japanese in World War II, the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

Its people have been seeking statehood for several decades. In the earlier stages of the statehood debates, it was generally felt Hawaii was readier than Alaska. There seems little doubt that it will quickly find its place as a maturing, developing region in the company of the other illustrious 49.

For some years serious concern was felt over the extent Communist-dominated unions may have controlled the Honolulu docks and related enterprises. Even at the end, the cry was heard, but recent responsible reports have suggested that this threat has greatly diminished.

Congress, which barely has digested the addition of Alaska's two senators and one congressman, soon will have this same number added again. There will be an even 100 senators and, temporarily 437 congressmen. Later readjustments will reduce the House total to the old 435 limit.

Obviously this promises fresh changes of the political balance both in Congress and in the nation. It will add emphasis to the shift of power westward.

It is good to feel the pulse and flow that comes from adding new life to our far-flung land. Because it has happened, Hawaii is to be congratulated. But so is America, for bringing its statehood to pass.

A congressman was scornful of press reports about his nepotism and said he didn't read the papers. He may find that his constituents do.

FIGHT ON POLLUTION

The House public works committee has before it a measure to broaden the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1956. The administration has proposed quite the opposite course. It wants the federal government to withdraw entirely from the control of stream pollution and transfer this responsibility to the separate states.

This wide divergence dramatizes a matter which is of great importance, and which will become more so. The steady rise in population, and the growing industrial use of water, will make curbs on water contamination increasingly vital. An adequate supply of pure water is fundamental to the nation's welfare.

The two divergent approaches to the problem mentioned above are not the only alternatives. It may be that, for the time being, federal activity provided for in the 1956 act would suffice. But although cutting federal expenditures is a worthy objective, it would be unwise to make this the only consideration in deciding what to do about water pollution control.

Minimizing stream pollution is more often a regional rather than an individual state problem. Projects on a stream which flows through several states can be handled best by coordinated effort, and the federal government is the logical agency to provide such coordination.

There also is a serious question whether

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE FALL-OUT

This both Khrushchev and Eisenhower know: the real danger in the next war will be the fall-out, the dropping upon this Earth of radio-active strontium which is manufactured by the explosion of the hydrogen bomb. This fall-out cannot be aimed at any particular territory; it knows no boundaries. It sails about in the atmosphere, slowly moving downward, until it falls upon rain clouds and sprinkles the Earth in gentle or stormy rain.

It might fall upon the country that exploded the bomb, upon the enemy country, upon neutrals or into the sea. It might come down at any time, even years after a war is over and people are at peace and are helping each other reconstruct their world.

Radio-active strontium's principal evil is that it consumes calcium of which our bones and teeth are manufactured. It can poison the grass that our cattle eat and we might be poisoned by the milk and meat that we eat. The same could happen to the Russians or any other people.

The effort is to procure a "clean" bomb, that is, one with a minimal fall-out. "Dirty" bombs produce a large fall-out. In 1954, the United States produced "dirty" bombs; in 1958, Soviet Russia produced the "dirtiest" bombs ever tested. It does not matter whether these bombs are exploded in war-time to destroy an enemy or in peace-time experimentally. The result is the same. Whatever goes up must sooner or later come down, and when this debris comes down, it is most destructive.

Despite the fact that all this is known, weapons of both sides in the next war will employ atomic explosives and the harm to mankind cannot be calculated. On the other hand, enslavement to the Soviet Empire leaves no hope but a living death.

It must be admitted that the world has reached this state through errors in political thinking on the part of our statesmen as far back as 1938. Way back there, those who spoke wisely were ridiculed and called "isolationists." Men like Charles A. Lindbergh, Herbert Hoover, Hugh Gibson, Robert A. Taft, and many others, including this writer, were given a bad time because they foresaw the prospect of America's participation in the forthcoming European war. The "Grand Debate" on this subject lasted for years. It would have been wisdom when Hitler and Stalin broke their alliance, to let them fight it out, until they killed each other. For it was impossible to distinguish between one monster and another, between one rascal and another. Even today, no one can say who was worse, Hitler or Stalin.

Nevertheless, Franklin D. Roosevelt chose to support Stalin to the tune of $11,000,000,000 and to build a massive enemy against the United States. No nation was weaker than Soviet Russia in 1941 at the end of the Hitler-Stalin Alliance; no European nation is stronger than Soviet Russia at the end of the Cold War in 1959. These are the frightening facts of history which stare at us as we approach May 27, the day of the Soviet ultimatum. It is to be hoped that that day will be passed without war, but there is no certainty that war may not come at any time, as long as an empire is in the building which seeks to dominate the world and whose objective enemy is the United States.

I listened to Cyrus Eaton on Mike Wallace's program one night and I must say that the man simply did not know what he was talking about, either about the United States or about Soviet Russia. Line by line, Eaton displayed not bad thinking, of which all men are capable, but lack of knowledge, lack of understanding, lack of data. It was an amazing performance and of it, I shall write more when and if I can get a transcript so that I can quote, not from memory, but from the record.

Cyrus Eaton attributes to Russians, American characteristics, and not being well-informed, he cannot resist the Russian propagandistic line which seems to him nothing but a sales talk.

Such men will not save the world from war because they encourage the Russians to make war by giving the false impression that we are a divided people. At such a moment as this, we cannot afford to be a divided people.

Research Offers Hope for Mentally Retarded Children
BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Human intelligence is a remarkable thing. The ability to think and the way in which this is performed varies enormously. A person, for example, can be a genius in mathematics or chess, but might be totally incapable of writing a great novel—or the reverse.

But today, I want to touch briefly on the tragedy of those children who are born with insufficient intelligence to be able to compete satisfactorily in our complicated world—the mentally retarded.

The first thing to recognize is that this group also contains individuals of differing intelligence. Mental retardation varies from those who are only slightly below normal intelligence to the ones who are intellectually totally helpless.

It has been pointed out in a pamphlet published by the National Association for Retarded Children (99 University Place, New York 3, N. Y.) that no simple or universal plan exists which can be applied to every mentally retarded child and his family.

In addition to knowing the degree of mental retardation one must try to determine the possibilities for the future training of the child, the economic situation of the family, the facilities in the community for caring for the youngster, and the like, before a plan can be drawn for the particular child. This includes such difficult decisions as whether the child should be cared for at home, or in a state or private institution.

The care of treatment of the mentally retarded youngster is fortunately being handled with increasing intelligence, understanding and sympathy. More research to improve care and treatment is needed and should be encouraged and supported.

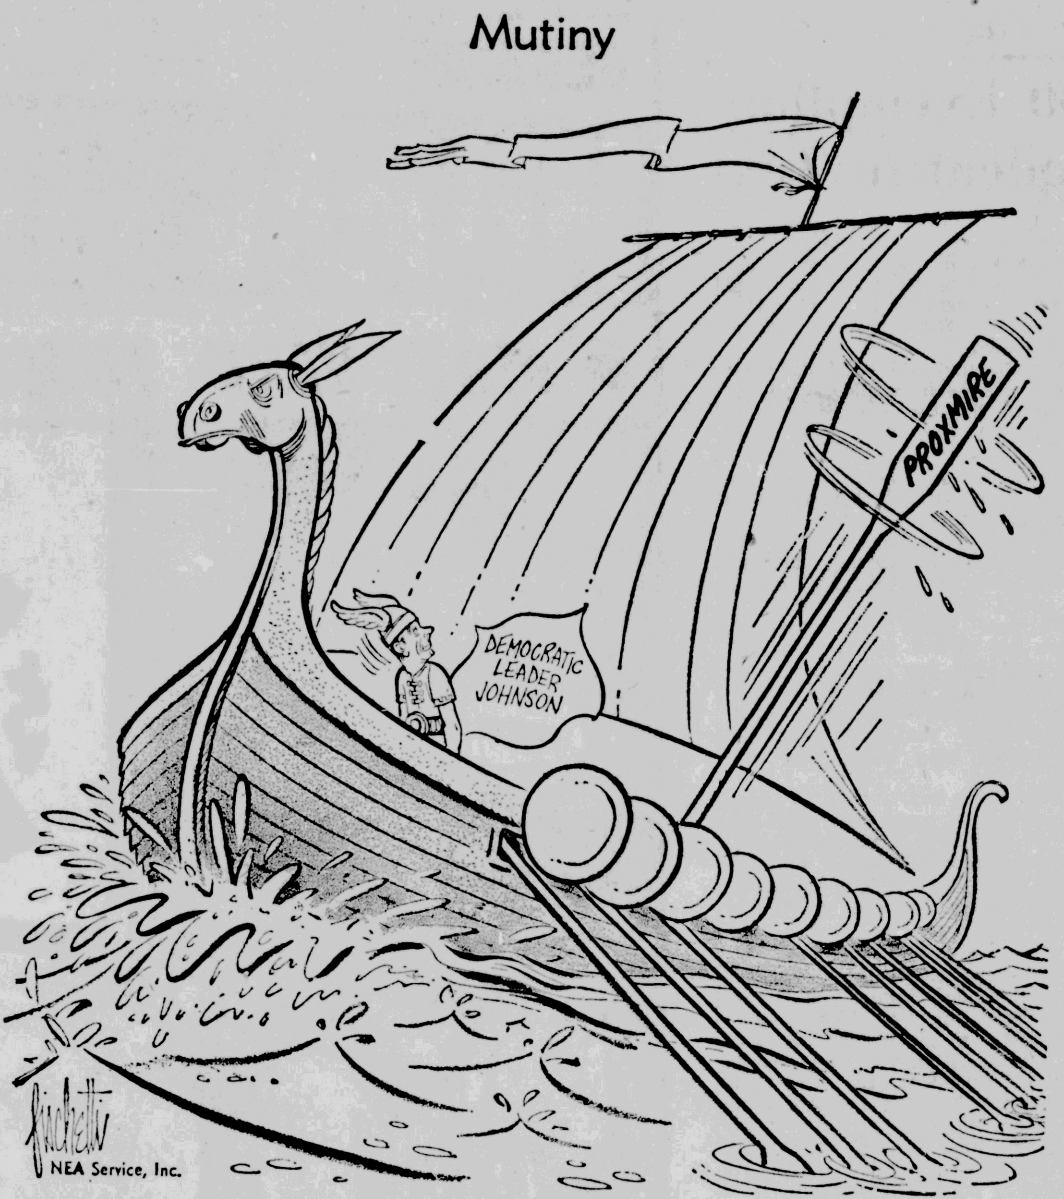

Many possible causes for mental retardation, some of them occurring before birth, some during birth, and some shortly thereafter are recognized. In some there are already clues to prevention, such as the effect on the child from the acquisition of German measles by the mother during pregnancy. Dietary, chemical and hormonal factors are being studied.

I believe personally that research into causes and prevention is likely to prove more fruitful over the next few years than new developments in treatment.

Although we can and should improve the environment in which the mentally retarded live, it seems unlikely that any drug or treatment is close to discovery which will improve the intelligence to a great degree. If something can be found to prevent even half of the cases of mental retardation an enormous step forward will have been taken.

The separate states would do an effective job of pollution control, even to the limited extent of their ability to do so, if the federal government withdrew. The risk of a setback is too great. All in all, this is one area in which federal supervision promises the best results.

Candidates with a gift of speech sometimes use it to give themselves away.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Five of the toughest public relations problems since Pearl Harbor are now faced by the Eisenhower administration in dealing with the Berlin crisis.

The characteristic common to them all is that the American people must be told the truth about their present predicament and fully prepared for whatever is ahead.

The problems involve: 1—The efficacy of foreign policy moves which are being made to avoid a war. 2—The readiness of the country for war if that is the alternative. 3—The adequacy of the defense budget to meet this emergency. 4—The need for curbing inflation if defense spending must be increased, or the necessity for higher taxes to cover costs if deficit financing is not resorted to. 5—The dangers of nuclear weapons fall-out and the effectiveness of civil defense measures to protect civilians if war comes.

SPOKESMEN for the Eisenhower administration would be the last to admit that they have not "levelled" with the American people and told them the truth on all these issues.

But the obvious dissatisfaction with what the administration has been saying is the indicator that many people are not convinced by what they have been hearing.

This is particularly true of congressional criticism. To the extent that this criticism is based on partisan political faultfinding, it can be discounted. To the extent that it seeks the national welfare, it must be listened to.

President Eisenhower's last press conference remarks on the German situation are now taken to mean that the United States will resort to nuclear war against Russia.

Federal Ways to Punish Press Traced to '21 Ruling

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower says it is "ridiculous" for the Federal Communications Commission to require that equal time be given to political candidates on "newscasts" over radio and television. He has asked Attorney General Rogers to study the legal problems involved. But it is also incredible that the Congress by law actually specifies that all candidates for political office must be given "equal time" for their speeches during a campaign.

The idea that a government agency can instruct a medium of public expression how it may judge news values or edit a program or a publication of any kind would appear on its face to be contrary to the first amendment to the Constitution, which supposedly guarantees a free press.

But, strange as it may seem, the Supreme Court of the United States as far back as 1921 has held that the government can withdraw second-class-mail privileges if a newspaper does not conform to a governmental order or law. Similarly, the Supreme Court has ruled that the Federal Communications Commission has a right to withdraw radio or television licenses on the basis of "public interest, convenience, and necessity." This clause was written into the law when Congress prescribed how radio and television licenses should be allocated.

Chief Justice Hughes in 1933, speaking for a unanimous Supreme Court, held that the power to allocate radio licenses was confined solely to mechanical factors, so as to avoid collision of wave lengths and to providing an orderly method of awarding licenses, which are limited in number. Justice Frankfurter, however, writing for the majority in a 5-to-2 opinion of the Supreme Court in 1943, proclaimed that the powers of Congress are much broader. In allocating licenses, he said, the Federal Communications Commission can consider all sorts of social or economic factors. He implied, moreover, that the commission could exercise — through the power to renew licenses periodically — a certain supervision over the policies of broadcasting and television stations.

Back in 1933, when the Federal Communications Commission interpreted the law passed by Congress the previous year as giving the commission the right to specify how program time shall be used in relation to political campaigns, this correspondent wrote that such regulation was an interference with freedom of the press. The broadcasting industry at the time, however, was reluctant to wage a fight for its rights. Today the broadcasting and television stations, through their own trade organizations, have shown that they now perceive the dangers arising from the violation of this principle 25 years ago. They are at last ready to do battle on the issue.

Press Not Protected

Newspapers are by no means protected against similar interference by the government. Their acceptance of the second-class-mail privilege is analogous to the licenses granted television and radio stations. Congress in 1912, acting under the postal power, passed a law requiring publishers to disclose the names of stockholders or bondholders owning more than one per cent of the total of each publication. This law was upheld in 1913 by the Supreme Court, which said that the application for second-class-mail rates by a publisher was in fact acceptance of a "privilege" from the government itself and hence renders publishers subject to Federal regulation, notwithstanding the first amendment.

Taft Ruling Recalled

Governmental regulation of the press is today legally permissible because of the existence of a government-granted privilege. In fact, the Justice Department in behalf of the Supreme Court in 1926 in the famous Booth Fisheries case — ruled that, by accepting the benefits of a government privilege granted through any law of Congress, an individual or company is actually disqualified from raising the question of constitutionality in court.

In a paper presented to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in April 1944 — after extensive research on the question — this writer suggested the following as a possible addition to the first amendment to the constitution:

"The grant, sale or lease of any facilities, licenses or privileges by the United States to the press, to radio broadcasting, to television, or to any other medium of public expression shall not vest in the Congress or in any executive agency or in the several states the power to limit, restrict or regulate the content of any printed publication, radio program, or creative work emanating from any medium of public expression except as any of these media may offend against the common law governing fraud, obscenity or libel, or except as acts of treason are committed and punishable under article III, section 3."

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The other day, Miss Emily Card called me from the Esopus Town Hall, to tell me about a display of boat models in the window. William Benson made the models, they were of the popular boats, Norwich, Mary Powell and the Skillypot. He also had a large frame full of tickets used on the various Hudson River steamers, many of them for the moonlight sails. The exhibition was arranged by the local Girl Scout troops. Very interesting display and hope it is in the window long enough for everyone interested in such models to see it.

Mr. Finley of Dumont, N. J., a former resident of Kingston who often sends items for this column, sent up several interesting things. One is a guide book for the Mary Powell Steamboat Co. At the time, E. E. O'cott was president, W. Y. Hawley, was secretary and treasurer, and A. E. Anderson, was general manager. I do not know the date of this booklet, but the following may be interesting as the 129th Street pier, had always been a stopping place for the Hudson River steamboats.

Item reads: "Important Announcement—Realizing the fact that the trend of business in New York City is steadily moving uptown, the Day Line have built a new, large and commodious pier at 129th Street, which is easily accessible to the Broadway subway, where express trains can be taken direct to Brooklyn, saving 45 minutes, also convenient to the great 125th Street cross-town cars."

Another item reads, "The Mary Powell has been thoroughly rebuilt so that now it would be a difficult matter to find a piece of wood or metal which lent strength or beauty to her when launched. But, as is well known, no hull in the world possesses more symmetrical proportions and the lines of her graceful perfection have been so carefully preserved that there has been no deviation from her original construction. She made her fastest time between New York and Rondout, leaving New York 3:33 p. m. and arriving at Rondout at 7:45 p. m., making eight landings, distance 100 miles, far outdoing any previous steamboat record over that course."

"The dimensions of the vessel are as follows," says the pamphlet: "Length on water line, 288 feet, 9 inches; length over all, 300 feet; breadth of beam molder, 34 feet, four inches; breadth of beam over guards, 64 feet; depth of molder, 10 feet, 3 inches; draft of water, 6 feet; tonnage gross, 983.59. The hull of the vessel was built by ship builder, M. Allison, Jersey City. The machinery was built by W. A. Fletcher Co., North River, Iron Works. The engine is a Standard American Beam Engine, with cylinder 72 inches in diameter and 12 foot stroke of piston, provided with Stevens' cut-off. The steam is conveyed to the ship by two tubular steel boilers, built by Townsend Downey Ship Building Co., Shooter Island, N. Y., in 1904. There is also a donkey boiler for use when required. A large Worthington steam pump, with numerous pipes and valves arranged to insure the safety of vessel in case of collision or fire, is constantly running while boat is in service."

We shall never know the limits of human creativity in the field of cancer research until we supply sufficient funds to enable medical science to test its utmost powers—run the last test, analyze the final chemical, examine the terminal slide.

Former cancer patient Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), introducing bill for cancer research.

We should utilize some of the noncombatant ships that we have presently in mothballs and convert them into hospital ships. There should be at least one peace fleet with every war fleet.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), proposing "mercy fleet" to carry help to foreign peoples when disasters strike.

Something other than technology must be depended upon to lay the foundation for a just and lasting peace. The conflict between East and West will not be solved from space ships or by shooting rockets at the moon.

Safety Play Is Key to Game

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Sonny Moysse of New York, editor of the Bridge World, was on a busman's holiday, playing bridge at the Cavendish Club.

As a writer Sonny is familiar with all safety plays and I happened to watch him execute a simple but important one to win a rubber.

He won the second heart trick with the king and played ace and another heart right back. He would have to play the clubs eventually but maybe West would lead them for him.

No such luck. The shift was to a diamond and Sonny had to go after clubs himself.

He needed three tricks in the club suit and proceeded to make them by leading low to dummy's king and back to his own ace. East's doubleton queen dropped and dummy's jack was good. If he had tried a simple finesse his jack would have lost to the queen and West's ten-nine would still have stopped the suit.

A little study will show that

Along Capitol Corridors

By CHARLES DUMAS

Associated Press Staff Writer
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — There's one thing about the Legislature that will never change — that mad March-hare dash for adjournment.

This year is no different. March came in like a lamb but is going out like a scared rabbit.

Both houses are racing wildly to adjourn next Wednesday, before the Easter holiday.

As the Senate and Assembly plow through calendars that look like digest-size magazine, hundreds of bills are passed daily and sent off packing to the governor's office.

Debate starts in mid morning and stretches sonorously into late afternoon. The Republican leaders have decreed full "working days" every day from now on.

This means the lawmakers must be up early to attend committee meetings before the Senate and Assembly sessions. But they don't mind now.

For man, it means lunch at the desk — sandwiches and milk or coffee from a brown bag fetched by a secretary. But that's all right, too. There's a keen rivalry over who can produce the prettiest sandwich-bearer.

Even the tedious flow of mundane oratory — hour after hour — cannot depress their high spirits. The thought of adjournment is too cheerful a prospect. But why the big rush?

For one thing, the Easter holiday presents a natural stimulus every year. The Legislature doesn't like to work during the pre-Easter Holy Week if this can be avoided, and certainly not on Good Friday.

Since an Easter vacation is in order, why not adjourn altogether?

For another, many of the legislators are anxious to get back to their private pursuits — law practices or other businesses that have been getting only part-time attention since January.

Finally, spring is coming. Senators and assemblymen, like so many school boys, begin to gaze dreamily out of windows. Vacation plans — and binding reservations — are made well in advance.

When senators and assemblymen pause to swap "the time of day," they usually begin brightly by assuring each other that "it won't be long now."

One assemblyman happily imparted to another the information that a certain GOP leader had made reservations on a plane leaving for Florida next Wednesday. "That's a good sign we'll make it," he said.

Think It Through

E. F. HUTTON

SHOOTING THE WRONG MAN

The Man in the Moon is not our enemy. He hasn't done us a mean turn in a million years.

Moscow is our enemy.

It's time for our space scientists—and the President—to tell us in plain words how and why shooting the man in the Moon strengthens our national defense.

MR. HUTTON

If there were no cold war; if we were not spending 40 billion $'s a year to defend ourselves against an implacable enemy; if we had sound money, peace, low taxes and everyone employed, we could afford a lot of fireworks. But none of these things is true. Just how do space satellites, costing billions, defend this country now?

First things first, as F.D.R. said. The question is: How do we get the most national defense, per billion $'s, building satellites to hit the Moon; or intercontinental missiles to hit Moscow, if necessary, and without fail, and enough of them, — more than enough?

Enough to win the next war, if it comes, in one day!

Admittedly, the first Sputnik gave the Reds tremendous prestige. But is this a popularity contest, or a grim contest to survive?

These space men must be boys at heart. I don't blame them for being all hot up over their new toys.

But, neighbor, I'd trade six satellites right now for six more atomic submarines with hydrogen war-heads.

When our safety is assured, we can explore the planets.

Briggs Will Head Special Business Methods Group

The appointment of a special Business Methods Committee was announced today by Frederick H. Stang, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. J. Ellis Briggs has been named as chairman.

The naming of this committee was prompted by the exceptional large number of calls received by the Chamber of Commerce during recent months from area residents complaining about numerous sales and promotions. In several cases individuals reported that lawyers have been retained to get out of contracts which they believe were misrepresented to them.

In making this announcement today Stang said that he has asked the committee to study the situation and develop a positive program of public information and action.

Attention was called to the fact that the Federal Trade Commission has issued warnings about various misrepresentations particularly as they relate to plans promoting the combination sale of freezers and food plans. The Attorney General's Office is also anxious to investigate complaints relating to frauds and other unethical business practices.

Hercules Earnings Up

Forster, president, told shareholders at the annual meeting in Wilmington, Del., March 17. Earnings in the first quarter are expected to amount to about 56 cents a share, the same as earnings in the preceding quarter, and compared with 38 cents a share in the corresponding quarter of last year.

Governor Seeks Swap of High Level Offices

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Republican Gov. Rockefeller's administration is negotiating with a Democrat for a swap of high level state jobs. The Watertown Times said today.

The Times said it had learned from an authoritative source that a Rockefeller aide had asked William H. Morgan, Cortland Democrat, to give up his post on the Civil Service Commission in return for a five-year appointment to the State Liquor Authority.

Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz is the intermediary, the Times said. Morgan, a former Cortland County Democratic chairman, is one of three members of the Civil Service Commission. His term runs to Feb. 1, 1963.

The governor wants to control the commission and name his own president, the Times said. Alexander A. Falk of Margaretville, an appointee of former Democratic Gov. Harriman, has been serving as president. The third member, Mrs. Mary Goode Krone of Chappaqua, was recently reappointed by Rockefeller. She is Republican.

The Times said Morgan was reported receptive to the deal. Rockefeller declined comment on the newspaper's report.

More Ad Dollars in Newspapers
In 1958, the first auto crossed the United States under its own power. The trip took 52 days. Today, more people travel by auto than by any other means of transportation. And the automobile manufacturers of America invest more ad dollars in newspapers than in any other media.

The practice of giving tips started in England in the 18th century. In coffee houses small boxes were provided to deposit a small coin for patrons who were in a hurry. The outside of the box was labeled "To Insure Promptness". The first letters of this phrase were abbreviated tip.

Upstate Research Is Supported by Local Heart Fund

Medical research activities carried on in upstate New York have been supported by contributions to the Ulster County Heart Fund. The local chapter has contributed $4,550 over the past three years in special grants made through the Joint Fund for Medical Education and Research.

Voluntary health agencies helping to combat heart diseases and tuberculosis have invested $300,000 in medical research in upstate New York during the past year, according to Dr. Willard H. Willis of Utica, chairman of the joint fund. The fund represents the New York Heart Assembly, Inc. and the state committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of the State Charities Aid Association. The research projects and teaching fellowships are made possible by contributions to the Heart Fund and Christmas Seals sale.

Founded three years ago by the SCAA State Committee, the joint fund has received approximately $100,000 from local heart and tuberculosis affiliates and has made awards totaling $90,000 to stimulate research in chest diseases at upstate medical centers in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse. In the past year alone, $30,000 was awarded. Additional research grants-in-aid by affiliates, exclusive of the joint fund, amounted to $269,000 during fiscal year.

These grants are in addition to the great contribution made through research activities administered through the American Heart Association. This amounted to $8,000,000 last year, bringing the total to $40,000,000 in the decade since the association was founded.

William S. Keyser, local Heart Fund Chairman, said today, "Whole-hearted support is needed now by the Ulster County Heart Chapter to continue the program of research, education and community services, which include a penicillin prophylaxis program aimed at preventing recurrences of rheumatic fever, still the leading cause of heart disease in school children and young people." Upon request by a parent and the family physician's prescription, the chapter provides penicillin, without cost, for any child who has rheumatic fever. Heart diagnostic tests and medical consultations are also available upon referral by a private physician and where fees for these special tests would be a hardship.

Keyser said "Broad and whole-hearted support is needed now if the Ulster County Heart Chapter is to continue this program of research, education and community services." "It's not too late," the chairman said, "to send heart contributions to the Ulster County Heart Chapter, 124 Green Street."

Dizzy Experience

WAUKESHA, Wis., (AP) — Four-year-old Billy Sargent knows the inner workings of an automatic clothes dryer. Billy and brother, John, 2, were and turned on the motor. Mrs. Lawrence Sargent, do the laundry. When the phone rang she went upstairs to answer it. Billy climbed inside the dryer for a look around. John shut the door and turned on the motor. Mrs. Sargent came running, rescued Billy unharmed, spanked John and set about rewashing the clothes that had been in the washer.

Must Report On Welfare - Pension Plan by April 1

Most every employer of more than 25 workers in the United States has a date on April 1. By that day, administrators—most of them employers—of welfare and pension plans are required to file a description of such plans with the U. S. Department of Labor, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell emphasized today. Thousands of employers have already filed but many additional thousands have still to report.

This requirement is contained in the new Welfare and Pension Plans Disclosure Act passed in the closing days of the last Congress as a means of protecting beneficiaries against abuses, waste and mismanagement, Mitchell said. There are estimated to be some 80-90 million workers and their dependents and beneficiaries covered by the act.

Secretary Mitchell pointed out that forms for filing the required information are obtainable free by writing the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour regional office, 341 Ninth Avenue, New York City.

In addition to the plan descriptions required by April 1, annual financial reports are also required by the new law. These must be filed with the Labor Department within 120 days from the time the policy or fiscal year of a plan ends in 1959. Forms for the financial filing are also available and will automatically be sent to every plan administrator who files the required plan description, Secretary Mitchell explained.

Requests for plan description or financial report forms or questions regarding the forms or the new Welfare and Pension Plans Disclosure Act should be addressed to Division of Welfare and Pension Plan Reports, Bureau of Labor Standards, U. S. Department of Labor, Liberty Loan Building, Washington 25, D. C.

Valenti Insists

His lawyer obtained a writ of Habeas Corpus to speed their appearance before the commission. State Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Nathan Jr. signed an order Wednesday directing that the brothers be taken before the commission today.

Up to Court on Release

Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet said it was up to the court, which had ordered the men jailed at the commission's request, to decide whether the Valenti testimony cleared them of contempt.

"We'll determine whether they tell the truth," Grumet said. "If they don't, we'll be quick to say so."

The commission and several other agencies have been trying for a long time to determine the purpose of the Alapach meeting and to learn what went on.

Some of Questions

Commission counsel Eliot Lumbard said these are among the questions for the Valenti brothers to answer: Did they attend the meeting? Who asked them to attend? How many persons were present? Were any public officials there? What was discussed?

The commission has offered the seven jailed witnesses immunity from prosecution in state courts on the basis of anything they might tell the investigators. Counsel for the men argued in unsuccessful court appeals that the immunity was not broad enough.

'Nothing to Hide'

After the Valenti brothers appeared in State Supreme Court Wednesday, Frank told newsmen in a corridor:

"I haven't anything to hide and I'll answer all questions to the best of my ability."

Costanza chimed in:

"That goes for me, too."

The brothers were asked if they feared any reprisal from the un-

DA Says Dealers Cooperating in Lewd Book Drive

A move to rid the county of lewd publications appears to be initially effective, District Attorney Raymond J. Mino said today.

Law-enforcement officers have been making requested inspections and report dealers generally cooperative, he said.

In a statement March 13 the district attorney said it was hoped to remove from news stands publications considered to be "provocative, lewd and suggestive" and which were "exploiting and commercializing sex."

"I think that a large majority of the people of Ulster County agree with me that these publications are totally unfit for dissemination," he said.

Through a letter sent to law-enforcement agencies, he said, it was hoped first to gain cooperation on a voluntary basis, and if that was not sufficiently effective, enforcement of existing state laws will be sought by other means.

To date, he noted, officers in both city and county have indicated satisfactory results in their early efforts.

Allen Is Critical

the village, that Sanchis was described in vicious rumors as a "foreigner." Allen said Sanchis is an outstanding citizen, president of the Chamber of Commerce and vice-president of Rotary.

As Republican committeeman, Griffin should "have gone out and supported his candidate," Allen stated, alleging that Griffin "refused to help them in any way at all." Allen explained that Griffin refused to help either Sanchis or the Republican candidate for trustee, John T. Wallace, who was elected by a vote of 62 to 31. On the contrary, he charged that the write-in campaign was not only directed against Sanchis but against Wallace as well. He said the write-in vote for trustee was devoted to David Silverman, the Independent opponent of Wallace.

Incidentally, Allen pointed out, Silverman ran on the Independent ticket whereas, actually, he is a Democratic committeeman.

Slap Not With Hand: Allen

"I thought the entire thing was a slap in the back—but not with the hand," Allen stated.

He said Griffin was not elected by popular demand. The vote was 51 to 49 in his favor, but there were six votes for Sanchis declared void because the X-mark was placed after the name instead of in front of it, Griffin, he said, had only two ballots voided for this reason. The Freeman verified this fact.

Another Supports Charges

Allen's charges were supported by a prominent Republican resident of the village who asked, however, that his name not be used.

Efforts to reach Supervisor Morton Bertrand (R) of the town of Shandaken failed this morning.

In comments following his election by write-in vote, Griffin told The Freeman Wednesday that he felt a sense of obligation to the people of the village and would probably accept the office.

First Newspaper

In 1693, the first newspaper in the colonies appeared in Boston. It was called the "Publick Occurrence." It expired four days later because it had been published without official permission. Today, a free and independent press serves 100,000,000 readers daily.

derworld because of their testimony before the commission.

Frank answered:

"Now, I don't fear any reprisals. That's a fairy tale. And we're definitely not clams or canaries (Squealers)."

Shaver Jailed

Lansell Company and Morgan D. Ryan an officer of the defunct Ulster Bituminous Distributors, Inc., dealers in road oil. Both stand charged with kickbacks to town officials.

Called 'Flagrant Contempt'

Justice Greenberg said Shaver's action was "most flagrant contempt of court" and said that it was "trifling with the administration of the law" and if his acts were done on advice of counsel it was "most unfortunate."

Shaver was sentenced to five days in jail and directed to appear before the special grand jury next Tuesday, March 24, at 10:30 a. m. on completion of his jail sentence.

Hill charged that on a visit to the office of Special Prosecutor Tompkins in reference to the Shaver matter, he had been "threatened" in a "softening process," and he was told it would be "rough on him and me too" if Shaver did not testify.

Says Others Allowed Review

Hill said other town superintendents had been given an opportunity to review their testimony before appearing before the grand jury where immunity was granted and he cited "Barringer and Trowbridge or their attorneys" had been given copies of testimony.

Justice Greenberg asked whether counsel believed to have Shaver give his name and address would tend to incriminate him and remarked that "the constantly developing picture to obstruct the grand jury" which had been authorized by two governors to conduct the probe "shocked the conscience of the court."

After Bigger Ones

Tompkins said he had told Hill he had sufficient evidence to convict Shaver of taking bribes but Shaver was only "small fry" and it was the big ones who were wanted—"Ryan and Boyd who are represented by Haver."

When Tompkins intimated that "these defendants" were responsible for retaining Hill as counsel for Shaver, Hill interrupted to say "that is an unmitigated lie about my pay" and said it was a "malicious reference" and that any inference that Haver was involved in payment was a "lie."

Denial by Tompkins

There also ensued a short conflict between Hill and Tompkins over what had been said in the special prosecutor's office in regard to Shaver's appearance before the grand jury. Hill contended he had been offered copies of certain "notes" which were later withdrawn by Tompkins. Tompkins denied there had been any such offer.

The grand jury resumed its duties after the Shaver matter had been disposed of and it is possible another indictment may be reported later today.

The nonmilitary part of the test, York said, was to find out more about the nature and origin of the Van Allen belt of radiation.

The Van Allen belt is a mysterious radiation band beginning at about 100 miles above the earth and extending, with some interruptions, up to at least 12,000 miles. It is named for its discoverer, Dr. James Van Allen, State University of Iowa physicist.

Blasts Disclosed As Scientific Military Testings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three nuclear bombs exploded by the United States beyond the earth's atmosphere formed an electronic sheet that circled most of the world.

A responsible official outside the Defense Department said the tests at tremendous altitude were an effort to spread a shield through which missiles could not fly.

Set Off Last Fall

Defense Department officials confirmed Wednesday night that the blasts had been set off secretly last September, for both military and scientific test purposes. But they declined to discuss the military angles.

Other sources reported, however, that the tests explored the possibility of generating at an altitude of about 300 miles a diffusion of neutrons which would offset the nuclear reaction in missile warheads.

Just how the electronic shield could halt a missile or keep it from exploding was not explained.

The shots were fired from naval craft in the South Atlantic late in September — more than a month before the United States started a one-year suspension of nuclear tests pending negotiations with the Soviet Union on halting all such testing.

Two Give Details

Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles and Dr. Herbert York, director of Pentagon research, gave some details of the test shots after newsmen inquired about a story appearing in the New York Times.

They said the explosions were of very low yield in radiation and would not disclose the altitude at which the tests were made. York said there was no radioactive fallout on the earth from the tests.

York said the main objective of the blasts was to test important theories about the trapping of electrons by the earth's magnetic field. He said the detonation of the bombs released electrons into space above the earth's atmosphere, and that the trapping of these by the earth's magnetic field created the great sheet that eventually circled the globe.

Modena Holy Week Services

MODENA — Holy Week services will be conducted as follows:

Good Friday, Holy Communion will be administered at the New Paltz Reformed Church.

Celebration Plans

Listed on the program planned in cooperation with the Hudson-Champlain Celebration, date not specified at this time, is a tour of the old grist and feed mill at Gardiner to interested visitors.

George O. Smith, owner and operator will be in charge of the tour.

In 1775, Selah Tutthill purchased some 44 acres of property from Matthei Sammons, the acreage included the present site of Tutthilltown, named for the purchaser.

In 1798 his property comprised a "grist mill, a dry house, a saw mill, one log dwelling, one barn." The mill, the present historical landmark, was built in 1788, and has been operated almost constantly since.

A historical review reports that when other mills of similar type were being closed as mass production of the 20th century required more advanced methods, Ludwig Brandt, continued to operate the old mill and serve the farmers of the community in their accustomed way, in the early 1900's.

In 1941 George O. Smith purchased the mill, made necessary repairs and improvements. The mill is now three stories high.

The lower section of the turbine. The upper section was built to accommodate the machinery.

Wooden beams in the structure were pinned together by wooden pegs, main beams being 30 feet long, 14 inches wide and 18 inches deep.

One of the four mill stones, is claimed to be one of the original ones being of French buhr, and comes from the Pyrenees, France.

Recent stones were secured in Sweden.

The making of kosher flour is particularly interesting, according to those who have seen the operation.

It is assumed that the opening of the mill to the public will be during the summer vacation, or on a weekend, as Mr. Smith is a teacher in the Highland Central School.

In the August-September 1957 issue of the New York State Conservationist, sixteen Old Water Mills were pictured with an article by Nick Draho of the Conservationist staff. He reported that New York still had 16 water-powered grist mills, and about 20 saw mills.

Village Notes

Mr. and Mrs. DuBois Grimm have returned from a winter vacation in Florida. Ernest Waite of Platekill was in charge of Grimm's general store in Modena, during the owner's absence.

Retired Navy Chief Kills Wife and Self

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A retired Navy chief petty officer beat and slashed his wife to death Wednesday then killed himself. The dead, found in pools of blood in the basement of their home, were identified as Emil Ceterski, 69, and his wife Josephine, about 58. The woman had been beaten with two hammers and her throat had been slashed with a pocket-knife.

Police said Ceterski had left several notes describing marital difficulties and saying he had quarreled with his wife earlier in the day.

Relatives found the bodies. A knife and shotgun and two blood-stained hammers, the handle of one broken off, lay nearby.

Both victims had children from previous marriages but they lived alone at their southside home.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A 96-year-old woman, Emma S. Siss, died at the Monroe County Home infirmary Wednesday of injuries from a fall at her home last December.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The weak sister in the construction industry shows signs of perking up today. A modest increase in business spending for new plant and equipment is getting under way. Most of it may be for new machinery to cut rising labor costs. But some of it will be for enlarging factories or building new plants. The construction industry as a whole isn't suffering. Total spending last year rose to a new high, the notable increases being in home building and government projects.

These two, especially public construction, are expected to carry the ball this year.

Predictions on 1959 spending by business for capital goods are based on two things:

1. The Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission query corporate executives on their plans. These intentions now add up to 32 billion dollars for this year, a 4 per cent gain over last year's recession-hit outlay of 30 1/2 billion, but still well below the 1957 outlay of 37 1/2 billion.

2. The National Industrial Conference Board asks leading manufacturers what sums their directors have actually approved for expansion. This shows now that appropriations are rising and would indicate that sometime in the future the actual money will be spent.

There's a catch to both these prediction methods. Businessmen can change their minds. Plans can be shelved or increased. Appropriations can be held up or fattened.

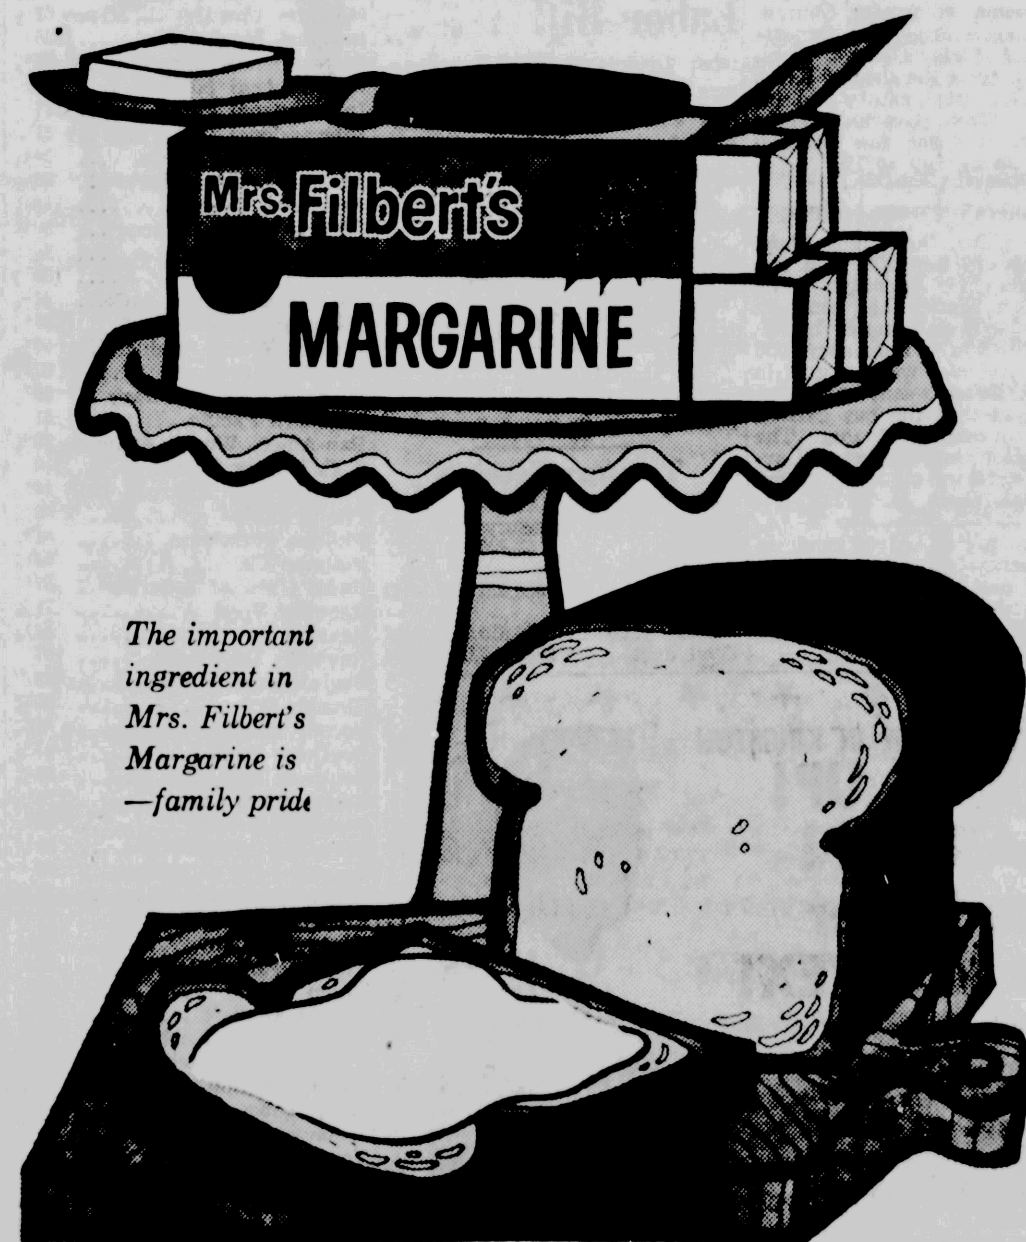

Or, the recovery could pick up speed, and business spending increase more than the predicted 4 per cent.

Business have poured nearly 132 billion dollars into new plant and equipment in the last four years. In the 1953-57 period this was one of the big factors in the general boom. The sharp cutback in 1958 was a chief reason for the recession being so steep.

Some of the biggest gains expected in spending this year are: 27 per cent for transportation other than rail; 8 per cent by the nondurable goods industries; 7 per cent by the durable goods industries.

The real increase in such spending, however, is expected to come in 1960 and 1961, when today's unused industrial facilities should be fully employed.

New Jersey firm, held the low bid for the same district.

To Advertise for Bids

Cole was authorized to advertise for bids for a sedan and station wagon, one of which, will be bought for the department. Bids are also to be advertised for purchase of asphaltic and bituminous materials and crushed stone for the repair and rebuilding of streets.

The board officially received and filed a report from Special Investigator Bernard Tompkins listing the names of firms which failed to cooperate in the Tompkins probe of kickbacks in the city and county. Tompkins recently released the names of the firms for publication. The list was requested at a previous meeting of the board.

Referred for Action

A petition for paving, curbing and a storm water sewer on a section of Van Gaasbeek, submitted through Third Ward Alderman Donald Hastings, was referred to City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan "for quick action."

The work will be done on a section of street between Sylvester and Cassidy Streets with the taxpayers paying 75 and the city 25 per cent of cost.

On recommendation of the city engineer, the board authorized payment of $5,180.75 to James Bonardi, contractor, for work done on a sanitary sewer system for Pettit, Klingburg and South Washington Avenue.

A new street light for Tubby Street was approved, along with a plan to improve lighting on Mary's Avenue.

from financial holdings in companies that deal with their unions.

It also would penalize employers who try to corrupt union officers.

Zaretzki said that, while Democrats were "glad to follow labor when they're right," the AFL-CIO's reason for opposing the bill was not sound.

All Republicans and all Democrats, except one, voted for the measure.

The lone dissenter was Brooklyn's Harry Gittleman. He would not say why he voted "no."

quarters, a company spokesman said. "The bill should be enacted into law, which we consider doubtful, we would have to contest it in the courts."

The Assembly also approved bills to make parents responsible for damages caused by children under 16 and to make it easier for grand juries to obtain information about past activities of public officials. In other developments:

The Senate overruled Democratic protests and sent the governor a bill to set the state primary on Sept. 15 this year.

The Assembly passed and sent to the Senate a measure to increase from 14 to 16 the number of Supreme Court justices in the eighth judicial district (Allegany, Cattaraugus, Chautauque, Erie, Genesee, Niagara, Orleans and Wyoming counties).

The Senate gave final legislative approval to a bill to make it legal for youngsters 14 and older to take jobs mowing lawns, shoveling snow and doing other such chores (Assemblywoman Frances R. Marlett, R-Westchester).

Assemblyman William R. Butler (R-Buffalo) sponsored the bill to make parents liable, up to $250 for property damage caused by any of their children 16 or younger.

The bill was passed last year but vetoed by former Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman.

Butler said the bill would hit parents "where it hurts—in the pocketbook" and they would supervise their children more closely.

Assemblyman Max Turshen (D-Brooklyn) argued that many children guilty of vandalism come from impoverished and broken homes and the law would demand payment from persons on welfare or with low incomes.

The bill was passed 77-50 and sent to the Senate.

Asked by Lefkowitz

The measure on information from public officials was requested by Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz.

The state constitution now requires that public officials waive immunity from prosecution on the basis of anything they tell a grand jury about their present office. Refusal to do so means loss of office.

Some officials called in various investigations have refused to waive immunity and discuss previous public offices they have held.

The proposed constitutional amendment approved by the Assembly would require the official answer questions about any public post he has held five years previous to the time he is questioned. Refusal to waive would result in loss of the current job. The resolution went to the Senate.

Holds Four as Hostages

Copters Join Hunt For Crazy Gunman

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—

Police threw desperation resources into the search today for a crazed ex-convict who kidnapped a frantic mother and three children. He threatened to torture and kill them unless the governor released a personal enemy from the state penitentiary so he could kill him.

Gov. Cecil H. Underwood flew to Washington today, as previously planned, to meet with federal highway officials. He declined comment, saying the case was in good hands with the State Police in charge and that they had full authority to act.

Just Wants Vengeance

"Only you have the power to save them from certain death, by granting my demands," read the note penned by the ex-convict. "I don't want money I want vengeance."

Helicopters dived over creeks and valleys of southern West Virginia while 75 state troopers pressed a ground search for Richard Arlen Payne, 23, who forcibly took the four at gunpoint Wednesday night.

State Police called Payne an extremely dangerous mental case. In the rambling, five-page tirade addressed to Underwood, he named a convict, Burton Junior Post, better known as Junior Starcher, whom Payne knew when Payne was serving time for armed robbery.

The note said:

Enemy in Prison

"My purpose is to kill and to take the head of my worst enemy, who is now out of reach. He is in the W.Va. Penitentiary at Moundsville."

Payne proposed to use his captives as a wedge to force Starcher's release.

"To save the children," the note read, "I demand, only the FBI work on this case."

Payne entered the home of John H. Baldwin, 31, early Wednesday night on the pretense of wanting to use the telephone.

Then he whipped out a pistol and threatened to kill the whole family, Baldwin told police.

The crazed ex-convict bound Baldwin, his wife Elma, 29, and their children, Susan, 5; Danny, 7; and Kenneth, 10. Methodically he gagged each one.

Ignores Woman's Pleas

He ignored Mrs. Baldwin's mumbled pleas to release the gag, and composed his wild note addressed to Underwood.

Then he herded the mother and her three frightened children into Baldwin's 1955 model car. Baldwin was left tied up in the family's five-room house. He broke free and notified authorities.

"He said he would kill my wife and torture the children if I called police," Baldwin told authorities. State police Capt. W. R. Callaghan said Payne was released from the State Penitentiary at Moundsville last week. He had served seven years for an armed robbery in which he shot and wounded a motel owner.

Summit Attitudes Differ

One of the differences the two men face is in their attitude toward a summit conference. Macmillan is represented as feeling one is necessary, regardless of any results of the foreign ministers meeting, on the theory that only Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev can speak for his country.

Eisenhower, by contrast, made clear in his broadcast speech Monday night that he feels advance development should "justify" a summer meeting at the summit.

Macmillan reportedly believes also that some legal basis other than the World War II right of conquest might be found for keeping U.S., British and French forces in Berlin.

Regard Is Higher For Welfare of Migrants Upstate

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Joint Legislative Committee on Migrant Labor said today that Upstate communities were showing increased regard for the welfare of transient workers.

In a report to the Legislature, the committee said mechanical harvesting devices were decreasing the demand of migrant field and orchard workers.

It also advised that State Police figures showed a decrease in migrant arrests for assault, felony larceny, burglary and disorderly conduct. Law enforcement, however, was said to continue "to be somewhat of a problem."

Although no total figure was given for 1958 migrant workers, used mostly for seasonal harvesting in central and western New York, a total of approximately 1,100 camps, each housing more than five laborers, were operated last year.

Sanitary and housing conditions were reported improved. State Health Department ratings called conditions good in 66 per cent of the camps, fair in 28 per cent, and poor in 6 per cent.

"Each year that the migrant is brought into New York State," the committee said, "has found a deeper appreciation on the part of the community in general concerning the necessary work that can be done to advantage to make the stay of the workers and his family more profitable."

Similar to January Proposal

Khrushchev Renews Bid for Broad Conference on Treaty for Germans

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev urged today a broad-based conference of all nations which took part in the war against Hitlerism, with the aim of concluding a peace treaty with Germany.

He called attention to President Eisenhower's proposal Monday night that a summit conference might be held this summer if a foreign ministers meeting could start negotiations on the Berlin crisis.

Tone Seems Mild

"We appeal to the governments of all nations which took part in the war against Hitlerite Germany to sit down at the negotiation table and settle pressing problems, to conclude a peace treaty with Germany," Khrushchev told a special news conference in the Kremlin.

Khrushchev's tone seemed mild. Khrushchev made a similar proposal last January in a note to 27 other countries which fought Nazi Germany. The West rejected this, and in turn asked the Soviet Union to take part in a foreign ministers conference in Geneva or Vienna with both East and West Germans in attendance, to prevent the German issues from touching off a new war.

Khrushchev this time seemed to have seized upon President Eisenhower's Monday remark as a starting point for a new attempt to make a summit conference a reality.

"We would like the Western governments, having cast aside the mad threats of their generals and admirals against our country, to sit down at the conference table with us," Khrushchev said.

Won't Hold Up Talks

"If they have sensible proposals to make, we are ready to examine them, together with our own proposals."

He then added that if the West was "seriously ready" for talks, the Soviet Union would not hold up matters.

"We have put forward our proposals for a peace treaty with Germany and for normalizing the situation in Berlin," Khrushchev said. "If they are prepared to start talks in a real earnest, we would not be ready waiting. We shall do everything within our power to make the talks a success."

The Soviet Union's only purpose, he asserted, is "to see to it that the dark clouds of a new war should forever disappear from the international horizon."

8 Girl Scouts Die

Freight Plows Into Automobile Killing 10 People

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A freight train plowed into a car carrying 10 passengers in a tragic railroad crossing accident near here Wednesday. All 10—including eight Girl Scouts—were killed.

The car was dragged 50 feet along the tracks. The body of the driver, Mrs. Lucille White, 41, was found 75 feet beyond the car.

The daughters of Mrs. White and the other adult in the car, Mrs. Jeanette Randall, 39, were among the eight Girl Scouts who perished.

The girls were returning home from a library here where they had been studying for merit badges. They lived in Beaver-creek Twp., a rural, commuter-type suburb between Xenia and Dayton.

The accident happened about 3½ miles west of Xenia.

Kenneth Ward, father of one Girl Scout, is an auxiliary fireman. He was helping gather up the bodies, unaware his daughter was a victim, when he recognized what was left of the car. Then he found the body of his daughter, Linda, 12.

The other girls were Sharon White, Cindy Moorman, Connie Laprise, Patricia Lapinski, Ann North, Paulnette Randall and Anna Wilvert.

All were 12 years old except Anna who was 11.

Six were killed outright and three were dead on arrival at a hospital.

W. R. Murray of Columbus, engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad's three-diesel express freight, said the car slowed down as it approached the crossing. He thought it was going to stop, but it kept coming, he said.

Gunmen Seal Off Offices, Rob 26 Of $15,000, Gems

NEW YORK (AP)—Six gunmen sealed off the fourth-floor executive offices of a greeting card company Wednesday and for a half-hour methodically robbed 20 women and 6 men of more than $15,000 in cash and jewelry.

The robbers slugged five of the men, two of whom needed hospital treatment. After gathering the loot, they bound and gagged the men with their own belts and neckties. The women were forced to lie on the floor. Then the robbers, all Negroes, made a clean getaway from the offices of the Dreyfuss Art Co.

The robbers apparently planned the job well and knew that a payroll had been delivered to the office. Many of the employees had received their pay in cash before the holdup.

Publish Brochure With Financial Data on Schools

ALBANY — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt announced today the publication of "Financial Data for School Districts" for the year ending June 30, 1958.

The brochure covers the financial conditions of schools, the local tax levy for school purposes, and the amount of state aid allotted to each school district. This information is set forth in comparative, statistical tables, for all 1,479 school districts in the state.

During 1958 revenues for current operations of the public schools in the state reached an all-time high of $1.3 billion. State-aid amounted to $521 million and local taxes accounted for $806 million. In addition to current operations, debt service on outstanding obligations reached $212 million and capital outlays totaled $423 million.

The rise in school expenditures is reflected in the fact that in 1958 the total of current operations was 11.9 per cent higher than in the preceding year; capital outlay was 13.4 per cent higher and debt service was 23.8 per cent higher.

This publication constitutes a part of the comptroller's special report on municipal affairs, annually submitted to the Legislature. Because school districts are operated on a fiscal year ending June 30, it is possible to publish the school section at this time.

Copies of the publication are available free of charge upon request by writing the Division of Municipal Affairs, Department of Audit and Control, State Office Building, Albany.

PSC Authorizes Beacon Bus Hike Of Adult Fares

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission today authorized the Prattburgh Telephone Co. Inc. in Steuben County to purchase the East Pembroke Telephone Co. in Genesee County.

Prattburgh had proposed to acquire the title, supplies and materials of the East Pembroke company for $30,400. The PSC ruled that the price was too high and should not exceed $72,000.

The East Pembroke company furnishes telephone service to about 600 customers in East Pembroke and parts of the towns of Pembroke, Batavia, Alabama and Alexander.

The Prattburgh firm serves about 1,350 subscribers through two separate telephone systems. One serves about 740 customers in an area west of Keuka Lake. The other serves about 610 customers in an area east of Seneca Lake.

The PSC also authorized the Fishkill Electric Railway Co. of Beacon to raise some of its adult fares, effective March 23.

The company operates two bus routes in Beacon, a 15-mile inter-urban route between Newburgh and East Fishkill via the Newburgh-Beacon ferry, and a 4.5-mile route between Beacon and Castle Point Hospital.

Present adult fares are 15 cents on local routes in Beacon; from 10 to 45 cents on the Beacon-East Fishkill route, and from 10 to 25 cents on the Castle Point Hospital route.

The company is authorized to increase its local fares in Beacon to 20 cents; fares of less than 30 cents on the Beacon-East Fishkill route by five cents each, and the present 10 and 15-cent fares on the hospital route to 20 cents.

The company had reported an operating loss of more than $1,000 for 1958 and a steady drop in patronage. The new fares are expected to produce about $1,700 additional annual revenue.

Sober Note

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Virginia liquor sales are declining and at least a part of the slump is believed due to a change in the drinking habits of sailors. The most significant decline has been in the Hampton Roads area, headquarters of the Navy's Atlantic fleet.

Seems Like Old Times

Critic Fulbright In Harness Again

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright held his tongue for a short time after becoming chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee. But now he's in good voice again.

The 53-year-old Democrat from Arkansas has been for years perhaps the most constant and biting critic of the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign policy.

His particular target used to be the now-vailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. But since Dulles had to step aside, perhaps permanently, to fight cancer, Fulbright has offered no direct criticism of him.

Bangs Away Again

But he is still banging at the administration.

A few criticisms give a sample of his style: Last year he called on President Eisenhower to abandon "sugar-coated half-truths" that have made us "fat and immobile in the past five years."

Again, last year, he urged a sweeping revision of American foreign policy to stop what he called a "drift to disaster." He called our foreign policy "inadequate, outmoded and misdirected."

The chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee is one of the most important and powerful in Congress. For a brief period after becoming chairman Fulbright remained fairly mild, limiting himself more or less to suggestions.

At Odds With HST

(One of his suggestions once got him in bad with former President Truman. That was in 1946 when the Republicans won control of Congress and Fulbright suggested Truman resign.)

In his mild period this year Fulbright cautioned his fellow senators who were demanding drastic action in the Berlin crisis that the President has the "basic responsibility — and authority — for our foreign policy."

He added "No football team can expect to win a game with every man his own quarterback." He did express hope that President Eisenhower and the State Department would stand up against Republican political pressure in picking ambassadors.

And he even suggested to the administration whom it should name secretary of state if Dulles couldn't return. He proposed the job go to Under Secretary Christian Herter.

But the Senator, who had been a football player, president of the University of Arkansas, and a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, picked up speed as the weeks passed and he settled down in his job as chairman.

Favors Regular Summits

Although Eisenhower has been very critical of even one more summit conference with Premier Nikita Khrushchev, last Saturday Fulbright proposed summit conferences should become a regular thing, held "maybe twice a year."

He said "maybe one of these days we'll come to have a little confidence in one matter and a little understanding."

Two nights later Eisenhower, in his nationwide broadcast, made headlines around the world by expressing willingness for a summit conference this summer if first the foreign ministers show signs of progress to make a summit worthwhile.

Fulbright also proposed eventual pullback of Western and Soviet troops in Europe — after negotiations, of course. Pullback has been called by another name: disengagement.

Hits Aid Handling

The idea of disengagement previously had been ridiculed by Fulbright's fellow Democrat and expert on foreign affairs, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The words pullback and disengagement have become for some people synonymous with retreat and appeasement. But Fulbright has said disengagement shouldn't be confused with appeasement.

He said he sees no particular virtue in the "status quo."

Wednesday Fulbright let go at the administration in his old style. He said its handling of foreign aid indicates it is "unaware of the depth and scope of the Soviet challenge."

He said "I believe that the people of America will rise to the needs of our situation if they are clearly told what is at stake."

Agencies Agree on Adirondack Plan

Rocky Favors West Schroon Lake Route For Albany-Canada Northway Project

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Agreement among state agencies on a route in the Adirondack Mountains for the Albany-Canada Northway was reported today by Gov. Rockefeller.

Three routes were considered. One ran along Lake Champlain. The others — further west — generally ran parallel, except that "B" swung west of Schroon Lake and "C" looped to the east.

Rockefeller said "B" was the choice of Public Works Supt. J. Enoch McMorran and Conservation Commissioner H. G. Wilm. Under the Harriman administration, Public Works favored route "C."

Since both "B" and "C" will run through part of the forest preserve, construction of the super-highway calls for amendment of the Constitution, which guarantees that the preserve shall be kept "forever wild."

The choice of route has stirred hot controversy among conservation groups. Some attacked the taking of preserve land. Others favored it, maintaining that it would open up the wilderness for more people.

The 1958 Legislature passed resolutions for both "B" and "C."

Other Too Costly

Champlain Route — Costs 28 million more than Route B.

Rockefeller said the high cost of the Champlain route made it doubtful if the route would be approved as an interstate highway and qualify for 90 per cent reimbursement from federal funds.

Rockefeller said that Route C would cost less than B primarily because more forest-preserve land would be used.

At the same time, he announced that Public Works was planning to convert Route 22, along the west shore of Lake Champlain, into a modern "heavy-duty" route.

The department is negotiating the first of a series of contracts — to rebuild a 22-mile section of the route, between Whitehall and the Essex County line.

McMorran said the department had favored Route C earlier because it was shorter and would cost less. He said, however, that this was offset by the increased traffic service on Route B, and the use of much less preserve acreage.

Also, he said, many conservationists were concerned over alteration of the Pharaoh Mt. region.

Named to Post Held By Margaretville Man

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A former assemblyman from Tioga County will serve as director of the State Agriculture Department's Food Control Division.

Myron D. Albro of Nichols was appointed to the $9,220-a-year post Wednesday by Agriculture Commissioner Don J. Wickham. He succeeds Harold W. Finch of Margaretville, who has resigned.

Albro, 62, a Republican, served in the Assembly from 1939 through 1952, when he retired to become assistant financial clerk of the Assembly, his present job.

The Food Control Division administers the Pure Food Law and inspects and licenses food manufacturing and processing plants.

'Eat Your Easter Bonnet' Will Be Popular Theme Now

ONE "BONNET" that will attract plenty of admiring attention come Easter is this unusual cake that's fun to make—and eat.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Pretty enough to eat—that's what this Easter bonnet cake will make you exclaim. It expresses the light-hearted feeling of spring.

It can be spread with pastel icing and nests of tinted coconut for colored candy eggs. Or tint it delicately, decorate with frosting flowers, love knots and flummy doodles.

Easter Bonnet Cake
(Yield: 12 servings)

Sift 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt together and set aside. Cream 1 cup butter or margarine until fluffy. Gradually blend in 2 cups sugar, 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract and 1/4 teaspoon pure almond extract. Beat in 5 unbeaten egg whites, one at a time. Add sifted flour mixture alternately with 1 cup milk. Blend in 6 tablespoons hot water. Line a greased 11-inch pie plate and a 5 1/2 x 2 1/2 inch (1 pint) baking dish with waxed paper. Grease paper and sides of dish and flour lightly. Add batter. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pans 10 minutes. Turn out onto wire racks to finish cooling. Place the 11-inch orange frosting and make it very smooth over the surface. Frost top and sides of the small cake and place on top of frosted layer in a back-center position to resemble a crown of a hat. Decorate cake to simulate an Easter bonnet with flowers made from frosting colored with vegetable coloring and put through a decorator's tube.

Creamy Orange Frosting
(Yield: Enough frosting for 11-inch cake)

Stir 1/2 cup butter or margarine until creamy. Gradually blend in 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar. Add 3/4 cups sifted confectioner's sugar alternately with 5 tablespoons fresh strained orange juice and 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Color as desired.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato juice, creamed tuna, steamed rice, broccoli with buttered bread crumbs, enriched bread, stewed rhubarb, white cake, coffee, tea, milk.

Committee Named To Attract Industry

New Paltz, March 18—A five-man committee to explore the possibilities of attracting industry to New Paltz was appointed at the recent regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Named to the committee by Chamber President Walter Offermann were George Majestic, Richard Lent, Parks Glenn and a representative from each of the New Paltz banks.

Richard Lent, supervisor, stated that he is concerned for the need of doing something to attract industry to New Paltz. He suggested that the Chamber have a survey printed with information that an industry looking for a location might wish to know. He said that an earnest bid for industry should be made to relieve the heavy tax burden. He also stated that within limits the town board can appropriate money to help advance industrial growth within the town, pointing out many different ways to make our facilities attractive to potential industries.

Woodstock News

Woodstock's Role in Arts, Crafts Among Celebration's Highlights

Woodstock's importance as a center of activity in art, music and crafts and as the birthplace of the world famous Jonathan Apple will be highlighted in the town's observance of the Hudson-Champlain celebration this year.

Alf Evers, noted Woodstock historian and authority on folk lore, is chairman of the committee which will join the statewide observance of the 530th anniversary of the exploration of the Hudson and Champlain valleys.

A series of events planned by Evers and his committee will tell the Woodstock story to the world and the Jonathan Apple angle is expected to focus international attention on the village and township.

The committee will inaugurate the celebration by joining with the Woodstock Festival Committee in a program of authentic Catskill Mountain folk songs at the Guild Gallery on Sunday, March 22, at 3:30 p. m.

Appearing on the program will be Barbara Moncre, Woodstock's prominent composer-bald singer, who has recently sung at Union College, Fenimore House, Cooperstown and at the State Teacher's College at New Paltz. Harry Siemsen, historian of the Town of Kingston, who has contributed folklore and music to many collections including the recently published "Abelard Book of American Folk Songs," is also on the program.

Other Events Planned
Throughout the summer there will be other musical events in which Woodstock's musical organizations will present interesting and unusual programs. Details will be announced later.

Woodstock will sum up the achievements of her artists in two successive exhibitions covering 50 Years of Art in Woodstock from Aug. 8 to Sept. 8. Only the works of painters no longer living and who made a significant contribution to Woodstock and American art, will be shown.

Many of the paintings will be on loan from collectors and museums. This show will run until August 22, when an exhibition of the work of living Woodstock painters and sculptors will be presented. These exhibitions will be held at the Gallery of the Woodstock Art Association under the direction of a committee on which will serve members from outside the Art Association. Concurrently with these exhibitions, the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen will present a panoramic view of a century and a half of crafts in Woodstock. There will be early Woodstock quilts, tools, furniture and the most complete collection of Woodstock glass of 1809-1856 ever brought together.

The crafts of Byrdcliffe, beginning in 1902, and other crafts with emphasis on those of the present will be an important part of the exhibition.

Majority Favor Tax Relief for Retired Persons

A total of 1963 taxpayers in the Ontario Central District have replied to questionnaires in connection with the proposed tax relief-for-retired persons project now under study by the district.

Supervising principal John A. Moehle's report to the Board Monday night revealed that 1766 persons have expressed approval of the plan. One hundred sixty four opposed it and 33 said they were undecided.

In the affirmative list, 673 were retired folks; 151 will retire in the coming year and 922 were not retired. The opposition was made up of 4 retired persons and 160 not retired.

The amount of tax involved among people who claim they are retired is $43,418.93, a check showed. If the Ontario board considered reducing that amount by fifty per cent, a total of $21,709 would be forgiven.

With these figures in mind, the Board authorized continuance of the study.

In 1879, the first electric light company was formed in New York. In 1958, public utilities invested over $19,000,000 in daily newspapers to tell their service stories to their communities.

Ontario Places Advertisements For School Bids

Advertising for bids on the new 14-room elementary school at Boiceville have been placed in area newspapers, the Ontario Board of Education reported this week.

The bids will be opened at the school on April 6 at 7:30 p. m.

A long discussion was held concerning the construction work now in progress. Rough grading is being done on the site of the new school. Mr. Raisner, the school architect, spent a long time discussing this phase of the work with the Board.

The Board was notified that Charles Fike, who is the Department of Education's fire protection coordinator, would inspect the central district's installations today.

A final discussion ensued in which the Board was notified it could issue the new bonds or amortize the new bonds over periods of 20, 25 or 30 years. It was revealed that a substantial saving could be effected if the bonds were amortized over the 20-year period. The exact amount was not announced, but it is believed to be in the neighborhood of $10,000.

A letter was read from Frederick Werner of Arizona asking the Board to refund a tax penalty he had to pay in the amount of $15.43 due to the mixup over tax collections last fall. Werner was a resident of Woodstock when the payments were made. The Board rejected the petition. The Board approved the tax collector's report noting the total amount due the district, including full amount of tax and all fees at $731,129.35. The collector, Frances L. Whiting, has reimbursed the district the same amount of money. All tax monies in the district have been accounted for, the Board announced.

Board Asks 60 Days Notice on Any Resignation

The Ontario Central Board of Education has adopted a resolution asking any employee who resigns from his position to give 60 days notice in writing.

In turn, the Ontario board will give any employee who is to be dismissed 60 days notice in writing.

Other business transacted at this week's meeting included: Approval of a schedule of bills for payment totalling $46,388.78 from the General Fund.

Approved payment of all outstanding bills for former Common School District No. 2 Woodstock in the amount of $2,621.65. Insofar as the board knows, those payments will clean up all of the known indebtedness of the Woodstock district.

May Allocate Funds
The board received a report on the cost analysis of the cafeteria operation, but no action was taken after some discussion.

The board was notified that the Mount Tremper Civic Association voted to make the former Mt. Tremper school house for kindergarten classes next fall.

A discussion was held on allocating some district funds to be deposited in the Woodstock bank. The trustees will further study this matter.

It was voted to purchase through the Division of Standards and Purchase a combination tractor and other equipment for mowing large grass areas and for the removal of snow at a cost of approximately $4,000.

Petition Board For Additional Rooms at Hurley
Several educational matters occupied the attention of the Ontario Central Board of Education this week, with the Board's Budget Committee scheduled to meet with the Teachers Salaries Committee today at 3:30 p. m.

A brief discussion was held on the merit system as it relates to teachers' salaries.

The board received a number of letters from residents of West Hurley petitioning it to consider adding two rooms on the present West Hurley elementary school. The petitions also asked that money for this construction be placed in the budget for next year.

Applications for jobs were received from Mrs. Helen Umhay of Mt. Tremper as a cook in the Mt. Tremper annex; from Harvey Every, Bushkill, for custodian; and Helen Gulnick, Al-laben, as cook or matron.

Rehire Schimmerling
Progress reports were heard on two research projects and the number enrolled in the How to Study course.

The board authorized the employment of Evelyn Ruhman of Woodstock as art teacher for the Woodstock and West Hurley Schools and H. A. Schimmerling, vocal instructor for both schools.

The board received a long report from Donald Jennings, part time supervisor of the Woodstock Craft Guild project. It was in effect a financial report in which certain proposals were made for expenditures this year and a proposed budget for 1959 was submitted.

There was also discussion on use of the Pine Hill School as possible kindergarten class for next year and about the overcrowding at West Hurley.

Philip Gordon, president of the Board of Education was invited to the Saugerties school dedication on Sunday, April 5, and the board received an invitation to attend the Ulster County Teachers Association conference on April 6 at the Ellenville Central School.

Two Bills Would Expedite Bonds For No. 2 School

Bill have been introduced in the New York State legislature by Senator E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson to provide for issuance of bonds to fund an outstanding note of bond anticipation indebtedness in the amount of $59,000.

The note now outstanding from the former Woodstock Common School district will mature June 8, 1959 and is held by the Woodstock branch of the Bank of Orange County.

The New York bonded firm of Vandewater, Sykes, Heckler and Galloway, bond attorneys for the former Woodstock No. 2 district, notified the Ontario Central School Board of Education on January 20 that it would assist in the drafting of the required special legislation to issue the bonds.

In a letter to Vincent G. Connelly, attorney for the Ontario board, the New York firm wrote: "As we see it, the only solution to the problem is special legislation (which should be enacted at the current session of the Legislature)."

Assemblyman Wilson's bill (No. 3930) was introduced in the Assembly on Feb. 17. As of Monday night, neither the Ontario board nor its attorney, Vincent G. Connelly, had been notified of any positive action on the bills.

The following is a brief resume of the status of the bond issue:

1) A proposition was adopted by the voters of Woodstock District 2 at a special district meeting on Feb. 11, 1955, authorizing the Board of Trustees to construct and finance an addition to the present school building of the district at a maximum cost of $65,000.

2) On June 2, 1955, the Board of Trustees, acting pursuant to the proposition adopted at the special district meeting, adopted a bond resolution under the provisions of the Local Finance Law, authorizing construction of the addition and the issuance of $65,000 serial bonds of the District to pay the cost thereof.

3) At the same meeting in June of 1955, the Board of Trustees also adopted a bond anticipation note resolution delegating to the chairman of the board the power to issue bond anticipation notes.

4) Acting pursuant to the latter resolution, the chairman of the Board of Trustees authorized the issuance of the first note on June 8, 1955 in the amount of $35,000. Subsequently a $30,000 note was issued.

5) Following the issuance of several renewal notes, the Board of Trustees adopted a further bond anticipation note resolution on Aug. 20, 1957, authorizing the issuance of a consolidated renewal note in the amount of $62,000 dated June 8, 1957 and maturing June 8, 1958. The amount of $3,000 from available current funds was applied for the partial redemption of the balance of the notes then outstanding.

6) On June 26, 1958, the Board of Trustees again authorized the issuance of a renewal note, this time in the amount of $59,000 for the partial renewal of the note which matured June 8, 1958. As in the preceding year, the sum of $3,000 from current funds was applied toward the payment of the note being renewed.

The payments made by the school district in 1957 and in 1958 to reduce the principal amount of the then outstanding notes was required in order to comply with paragraph b of Section 23.00 of the Local Finance Law. This section provides in substance that no bond anticipation notes may be issued after two years from the date of the first note unless a partial payment on principal is made equivalent to a first bond installment.

Redemptions of principal are required each year thereafter if the notes are to be again renewed. However, in no event may bond anticipation notes be

Milk Promotion Gets New Boost

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The promotion of milk sales by contributions from producers got another airing today as support appeared to be growing among co-operators and independents.

The plan to raise a $750,000 promotion fund through farmers voluntarily contributing one cent for each 100 pounds of milk sold received unanimous approval Wednesday at Watertown.

George Tyler of Rome, speaking for the Producers Milk Market Development Board, which would operate the program, urged approval at the second of a series of nine meetings called by the U. S. Agriculture Dept. to determine milkshed favor the plan, which would use the fund to finance research and advertising programs aimed at increasing the sales of fluid milk.

The recently merged Dairy Farmers of America and Farmers Union contend it would be a waste of money.

After today's meeting before Kenneth E. Fee, presiding officer, the series resumes Tuesday at Olean.

Bomb Shatters Uneasy Quiet in Upstate Strike

MECHANICVILLE, N. Y. (AP) —The uneasy quiet of the second long strike at the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. plant here was shattered Wednesday night by the explosion of a home-made bomb on a worker's porch.

The blast, first violence in the two-month-old strike, injured no one but wrecked the front porch of Charles A. Horner's home. Horner is a former union official who now is an hourly employee at the plant.

George N. Hoover, plant manager, announced Tuesday that salaried employees and supervisors would take over production jobs Friday and that the plant would resume manufacturing paper.

The mill has been closed since the United Papermakers and Paperworkers Union struck over technical issues. A meeting of both sides with Commissioner John A. Rooney, a federal mediator, was called Wednesday for today.

Horner was watching television when the blast tore off the steps of his porch and crumpled lattice-work, police said. Horner's wife and daughter were sleeping. A young woman told police she heard an automobile drive up to Horner's home, pause, and speed away. As it left, she said, she saw a flash accompanied by the explosion.

Police said the bomb was made of paper, cardboard and gunpowder.

Horner was vice president of the United Mine Workers unit that represented the 920 production workers at the mill during a previous months-long strike. After the strike, the workers voted to affiliate with the papermakers union.

Area Priests Are Named to Serve on '59 Charities Drive

Priests from the 10 counties of the New York Archdiocese who are directing the 40th annual fund appeal of New York Catholic Charities in their respective areas are meeting today at the New York Foundling Hospital, Third Avenue and 68 Street, to organize the 400 parishes in the Archdiocese for the house-to-house canvass April 19 to 29. About 16,000 volunteers will be enlisted in the campaign, which has a record goal of $3,105,267.

District manager from Ulster County attending the meeting is the Rev. James P. Keating of St. Joseph's, Kingston.

Since its first appeal in April 1920 New York Catholic Charities has raised a total of $57,789,759 in its successive fund campaigns and expended, with additional income from bequests and other sources, a total of $77,887,690.47 in maintaining, developing and expanding its social services.

Individual Plan

As in previous year, each parish will be organized individually by a priest appointed by the pastor, and known as the parish director, and by a lay chairman. Volunteers will be enlisted to serve on the various committees and also for the actual solicitation during which workers, traveling in pairs, will enroll all Catholic families in their respective districts.

All volunteers will carry credentials with them and will seek a day's wage or income where possible, which is the guide for generous giving suggested by Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York.

Priests Who Will Serve

Parish directors for Ulster County are the Rev. Daniel H. Daley, St. John the Evangelist and the Rev. John J. Frawley, St. Mary, both of Saugerties; the Rev. Edmund V. Radford, St. Colman, East Kingston; the Rev. Lawrence H. Gibney, St. Mary and St. Andrew, Ellenville; the Rev. Archibald H. Damm, St. Joseph, Glasco, and the Rev. Joseph Di Luna, St. Augustine, Highland.

Also the Rev. John J. Curry, St. Peter, Rosendale; the Rev. James S. Kelly, Presentation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Port Jervis; the Rev. Joseph B. Bernard, St. Francis de Sales, Phoenicia; the Rev. George E. Reinheimer, St. Joseph, New Paltz; Rev. Francis X. Schwarz, St. James, Milton; and the Rev. John D. Simmons, St. Mary, Marlboro.

Also the Rev. James P. Keating, St. Joseph's, Kingston; the Rev. William V. Reynolds, St. Peter; the Rev. Edward J. Farrelly, St. Mary; the Rev. Joseph J. Sieczek, Immaculate Conception; the Rev. Joseph G. McIntyre, Holy Name of Jesus; the Rev. William J. O'Donnell, St. Ann; the Rev. Jeremiah F. Nemecek, St. John and the Rev. Bernard P. Gerrity, St. Philomena, all of Kingston.

Indians Seeking Ike's Help, Will Go to UN Body

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of Indians from Upstate New York palavered around the Capital today and nourished a slender hope of seeing President Eisenhower.

If Ike won't help them, they said, they'll take their troubles to the United Nations.

The Iroquois, who were to be joined by Braves from western states, planned to present a petition to the President asking, among other things, for the ouster of Glenn L. Emmons, commissioner of Indian Affairs.

No Appointment

The White House said Wednesday the Indians have no appointment with Eisenhower and directed all their inquiries to the Interior Department, where Emmons works.

The proud Iroquois, however, claim an independent-nation status for their confederacy and maintain they have as much stature as the visiting president of Ireland or any other head of state.

Wallace (Mad Bear) Anderson, a Tuscarora warrior who came here by bus from Syracuse, N. Y., along with about 100 other Indians—including wives and one 3-year-old child, said Eisenhower would be breaking the Canandaigua treaty of 1794, signed by George Washington with the Six Nations of the Iroquois, if he refused to meet the delegation.

Cites Treaty Rights

That treaty, he explained, gave the Indians the right to take their troubles directly to the President "at any time."

According to Anderson, who has been leading the Indian fight for recognition as a sovereign state within the United States, the Interior Department and Emmons are responsible for much of the Indian's troubles. He accused the department of working for assimilation of the Indians under various states.

Another chief from Utah echoed the Iroquois complaints. They expected help today from Blackfeet from Montana, Indian leaders from Michigan and other areas.

If Eisenhower and U. S. officials won't help, the chiefs said, their next step will be to take their case to the United Nations as "an international problem."

And they'll start by talking with the embassies here.

Over 49,339,000 airline tickets were sold in the United States in 1957. Airlines advertisers invested $21,500,000 in daily newspapers that year—154% more than five years earlier.

OBLIGATIONS TO THE BEREAVED

Dear Mrs. Post: The recent death of the mother of a friend of mine has brought to mind the question of what obligations I have to this friend. The friend is someone I have known for a long time but is not really a close one. We live on the same street, go to the same church, our children attend the same school, yet we are probably not together at social functions more than a couple of times a year. Are flowers or other donation to a charity a requirement? Flowers can become rather expensive and while we are not poor, we don't have too much left for these extra expenses. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

Answer: Unless the obituary notice in the newspaper states "No Flowers," you would normally send some to the funeral, but you certainly are not expected to seriously strain your finances to do so. A note of sympathy to your friend and your presence at her mother's funeral is all that can be expected of you.

Thanks for Good Wishes
Dear Mrs. Post: Recently my daughter's picture along with the announcement of her engagement appeared in the newspaper. She received quite a few messages of good wishes from her friends and relatives. Will you please tell me if it is necessary for her to acknowledge these messages in any way?

Answer: If the messages were letters from those she sees rarely, she should answer them, but verbal thanks to those she sees often would be sufficient.

Need She Rise?
Dear Mrs. Post: When a middle-aged woman is seated at a party and a woman guest arrives who is a stranger to her and she is brought over and introduced to her, is it necessary that she rise from her chair to acknowledge this introduction?

Answer: No, she remains seated.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-2, entitled, "Model Notes," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Art of Conversation
"It is not conversation when two meet and engage each other, but both then mull around, each inhaling the poison of the other's vocal exhaust," writes T. V. Smith, distinguished scholar and philosopher in the March issue of HOUSE BEAUTIFUL.

A brilliant conversationalist, Mr. Smith divides the art of conversation into three categories—noise, sense, and significance. He says that some talk to "rid themselves of excess animal energy. They only gesture toward sense, by mouthings intended to see what they are going to say if anything."

Mr. Smith contends this type of conversation offers little in the way of meeting of the minds. "Indeed it requires hardly more than the presence of another body," he states.

It was particularly interesting for me to read this article because I strongly feel that conversation is on the wane. I find it particularly insulting when the first gesture of a hostess is to turn on the television set indicating (to me at least) that her guests have little of interest to say. Of course, if there is a fine thought-provoking program (which happens seldom) scheduled during the time guests visit, it would be entirely proper TO ASK guests if they would be interested in it. Many times, a fine program will provide enough material for an entire evening's discussion.

Our society has fallen to a new low, it seems, when all we can do in conversation is pass the time of day, turn the selector to the latest cowboy series, and load ourselves with a gastronomical nightmare.

With so much going on in the world today, how can we NOT find something to talk about?

Conversation, T. V. Smith says, is intelligible noise but it must make sense as well as sound, which brings us to his second category.

To achieve the level of SKNSE in a conversation, Mr. Smith writes, two or more persons must speak the same language. They select a particular subject—pursue the quarry until they have exhausted their knowledge of it, shared all the meanings, see more light on the subject at the end than at the beginning. "This is conversation on its way to a mission accomplished," says Mr. Smith.

When understanding has been reached in a conversation, then we pass into the final stage—significance. About this Smith writes:

"Each participant in such a process discerns what the other intends so as to mark the spot of interchanges and indeed to make interchange easy. If one persons takes all the time, it is soliloquy, not conversation. If the relationship be so stiff that each has formally to pause as if to ask the other whether he has anything to say, bodies get in the way of minds.

"Many of us know much more than we understand; and conversation at its highest and best has as its goal the understanding of what we already know, but know not how we know. This implies another's presence, respect for his person, a desire to understand his point of view, and a will to appropriate his contribution.

"The result of all such is clarification of the subject, appropriation of personality, and a deepened appreciation for the infinitude of human differences." (Tomorrow: What Conversation Is Not!)

University Glee Club Joins Hamilton Choir For Concert April 9

The combined voices of the Oneonta State University Teachers College Women's Glee Club and the Hamilton College Choir will be heard in a special musical program in Oneonta on April 9.

It was announced by Charles C. Burnsworth, director of the Oneonta SUTC musical group and faculty member of that college, that the two musical organizations would present the Bach B-Minor Mass at 8 p. m., Thursday, April 9 in Alumni Hall of the local State University unit.

Mr. Burnsworth reported that the program, which will be the first presentation of its type at Oneonta SUTC, will include guest soloists and orchestral accompaniment. He said that the Bach number is a complete musical presentation of the liturgy of the Mass. Setting the Mass, he explained, either the requiem or ordinary, to music has always been a prime challenge to all major composers. Bach's work stands as a giant among all attempts at this composition.

The public is invited to the concert, and a nominal charge will be made to cover expenses of the musical program.

The Hamilton College Choir is a group of 60 men, directed by John L. Baldwin Jr., formerly organist and choir master at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City. This choir from the up-state college is considered to be one of the most distinguished college singing groups in the country.

The Oneonta State University Teachers College Women's Glee Club, which recently completed a tour of eight Long Island cities, is made up of 50 women students.

Paltz College Band To Give Concert Monday at 8:30 P.M.

Two guest artists will appear on the program. They are: Dr. Enid Standing, clarinetist, who is visiting lecturer in Foreign Languages at the College, and Larry Newland, violist of the West Point Band. With Dr. Landau as pianist, they will perform the Mozart Trio for clarinet, viola and piano. The program will also include the Water Music Suite of Handel, Folk Song Suite of Vaughan-Williams, "Sleepers Awake" by Bach, and works by Mendelssohn and John Philip Sousa.

Revue to Observe Prompt Starting Time

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hunter, co-chairmen of the revue, "Cafe Society Downtown," sponsored by the Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel, urge those who are intending to come to the Revue, to be present at the social hall of the temple on Saturday promptly at 8:45 as the performance will start at that time. A late supper will be served after the show.

Hope to Recover Atlas Warhead For First Time

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force has fired a "new look" Atlas ICBM on a flight to test a new nose cone—the same type that would shield a deadly thermonuclear warhead in combat.

If all went well on Wednesday night's planned 4,500 mile flight the Air Force hoped to recover a complete Atlas warhead from the Atlantic depths for the first time.

Strict Security
It was not known whether the results would be announced because of the strict security wraps around the military launching.

The huge white cone, a radical change from the blunt-shaped device that usually tops the Atlas, was the center of attraction when the giant war rocket blasted aloft from a pool of swirling flame and smoke.

The mission on this 22nd Atlas shoot in 21 months was to check the performance of the new warhead cover during a brief space flight at 15,000 m.p.h. and the red hot re-entry through the earth's atmosphere to the target.

Marks Major Stride
The launching marked another major stride in an accelerated program to make the nation's first intercontinental range ballistic missile operational early next year.

In addition to its capability as a war weapon, the Convair missile is being groomed for a busy scientific space job that will start this June with the launching of a probe to the planet Venus.

The 120-ton Atlas also has been selected to push up satellites weighing more than a ton and eventually carry the first man from this nation into space as a climax to Project Mercury.

Four million U. S. retailers and other local advertisers invest about $2,375,000 a year in daily newspapers — more than they spend in all other media combined.

FRAMED RELIGIOUS PRINTS

Prints of the Saviour by Hoffman, Praying Hands by Rubens, Arrival of the Shepherds by Lerolle, other personal subjects as interpreted with spirit and honesty by master artists should be framed now for holiday presentation.

A framed gift of consolation creates warm companionship that lives through the years. The Way to Emmaus by Zund can be had in a small print suitable for the sanctuary, the home, the Sunday school. Large prints of dominating worth can be furnished to build hope, create a setting of victory. Come in and discuss intimate religious prints now. There is a lay-away plan.

Hearing Resumes On Plane Crash In East River

NEW YORK (AP) — The co-pilot of a jet-prop airplane which crashed into the East River Feb. 3 during fog says the plane's altimeters registered 500 feet at the moment disaster struck.

Testimony resumed today at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing of the crash which cost the lives of 65 of the 73 persons aboard, only 5 passengers and 3 crew members survived.

The co-pilot, Frank S. Hlavacek, testified Wednesday that an instant before the plane plowed into the river he had reported the altitude to Capt. Albert H. Dewitt by telling him, "leaving 500."

The co-pilot said the two cockpit altimeters on the plane checked out perfectly on a pre-flight test before taking off non stop from Chicago to La Guardia Field here. Also, Hlavacek said, they appeared to function perfectly during flight.

Told that one La Guardia control tower operator had told another about his American Airlines' Electra, "KEEP a sharp eye on American 320, the aircraft is slow in following instructions," Hlavacek replied:

"I don't know why anyone should say that. There was nothing slow about it."

State Teachers Of Handicapped To Meet at Point

New York State teachers of handicapped children hold their second conference at the Hotel Thayer, West Point, today through Saturday.

Sponsorship of the important meeting is shared by the New York State Department of Education, Bureau of Handicapped Children and the New York State Cerebral Palsy Association.

Dr. Henry L. Bibby, president of the Ulster County CP Association, said that the state organization "is happy to assist in this cooperative effort for better and more comprehensive services to the cerebral palsied and all other handicapped children of the state."

The local CP Center, 400 Broadway, will be closed Friday to permit the staff "this unusual opportunity to share in latest techniques and professional skills for aiding the youngsters in our own community," Dr. Bibby said. He noted that professional staffs of cerebral palsy affiliates together with teachers in special education will again participate in the three-day program "because of the constructive and favorable results that ensued from the initial meeting held in 1957."

Washington was full of bureaucrats during World War II, and many of them were military men. One afternoon a dashing young officer was introduced to a very beautiful girl. Spring was in his blood, and that impelled him to whisper in the girl's ear.

Young woman--Absolutely no dead away. It made quite a commotion. Cold water was thrown in his face. When he revived he found a very worried girl beside him.

Girl--I know, of course, that you must have been disappointed by my refusal, but why did you faint?

Officer--It wasn't disappointment at your refusal, but in all the ten months I have been in Washington it was the first time I ever got a definite answer.

Personnel Manager to Applicant: "What we're after is a man of vision; a man with drive, determination, fire; a man who never quits; a man who can inspire others; a man who can pull the company's bowling team out of last place!"

Young Woman--I want you to shoot this dog at once.

Policeman--I can't shoot him here in the residence section. The bullet might go through him and hit somebody.

Young Woman--But couldn't you shoot him lengthwise?

Andrew Carnegie admired the scientific spirit -- his generous gifts to science are a proof of that. Nevertheless, to his keen humor this spirit offered itself as a good prey, and Mr. Carnegie often raided wittily at scientists and their peculiar ways.

Mr. Carnegie (one time at a scientists' supper) -- The late--the late--but I won't mention the poor fellow's name. The late Blank, as he lay on his deathbed, was greeted very joyously one morning by his physician.

Poor Blank's eyes lit up with hope at the sight of the physician's beaming face. There had been a consultation on his case the day before. Perhaps, at last the remedy to cure him had been found.

Physician--My dear Mr. Blank, I congratulate you. Blank (smiling)--I shall recover? (in a weak voice tremulous with hope)

Physician--Well--er--not exactly, but we believe your disease to be entirely new, and if the autopsy demonstrates this to be true we had decided to name the malady after you.

When better automobiles are built they will be driven by old-style humans.

The easiest way to change a woman's mind is to AGREE with her.

When the Sunday-school teacher asked her class what they were thankful for, one little fellow replied:

Little fellow--My glasses.

Little fellow--They keep the boys from fighting me and the girls from kissing me.

The widespread ignorance of dramatic literature was demonstrated not so long ago by this little incident. A company was playing "She Stoops to Conquer" in a small western town when a man without any money, wishing to see the show, stepped up to the box office and said: Man--Pass me in, please. The box office man gave a loud harsh laugh. Box office man--Pass you in? What for? The applicant drew himself up and answered haughtily: Man--What for? Why, because I am Oliver Goldsmith, author of the play.

Box office man--Oh, I beg your pardon, sir. (in a shocked voice, as he hurriedly wrote out an order for a box).

Saugerties Has One Advantage In Golf Project

Saugerties has surmounted one of the major obstacles of a community seeking to establish its own municipal golf course, it has land available, Col. Harry Eckhoff, noted golf expert told members of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Wednesday night in The Flamingo.

Col. Eckhoff, eastern field representative for the National Golf Foundation presented a film and spoke on steps necessary to set up a public golf course and recreational area in the Town of Saugerties.

Dr. Irving Dreishpoon, local dentist and chairman of the public golf committee of the Chamber at a previous meeting reported there were many offers of land for sale, many with the minimum need of 140 acres for an 18-hole course.

The film also pointed out that a great many golf courses are self-supporting and would help to defray the costs of the recreational facilities such as tennis courts and swimming pool.

Dr. Dreishpoon, who arranged for the attendance of Col. Eckhoff, told The Freeman today that the next step would be financing the project. He said the committee has several sites available and would meet in a few days to work out financial matters.

Guests who attended to view the golf film included Hal Purdy of Kingston, golf course architect; Sheldon Fuller of Saugerties and Andrew J. Murphy III, superintendent of Kingston Recreation Department.

An observer at the meeting was William Polk of High Woods who announced in February that he plans to build a 9-hole public golf course on his High Woods property, the former Short farm off the High Woods Road, about a mile from the intersection with Route 212. His preliminary plans called for a 9-hole course. However, he said there is sufficient acreage to expand to 18 holes.

Polk's course would be known as the Scorpio Country Club and would be financed by private capital.

House Squabble Looms Over Dems' Bill on Airports

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats and Republicans squared off today for another budget battle likely to have repercussions in next year's election campaigns.

It's over a Democratic-backed airport-aid bill which calls for spending 97 million dollars more than President Eisenhower has recommended. Republicans are backing a bill following the President's recommendations and providing for a four-year outlay of 200 millions for airport development.

Demands Roll Vote
They already have served notice that they will demand a separate roll-call vote on their measure to determine, in the words of GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, "who the spenders are."

House there will be a roll-call vote on the Democrats' bill "and it will be interesting to see how Republicans vote."

Asks 4-Year Extension
The bill backed by most Democrats calls for a four-year extension of the federal airport-aid program at a cost of 297 million dollars, considerably below the 465 millions already voted by the Senate. It would approve the use of federal funds for airport construction and for the cost of airport terminal space used by federal agencies, such as traffic control towers, weather stations and customs offices.

The administration measure would restrict the use of federal funds to airports and needed safety facilities. It provides for a gradual withdrawal from the airport aid program over the four-year period.

Second Redstone Missile Unit Is Going to Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is sending a second Redstone missile unit to Germany to buttress North Atlantic Pact ground forces in Europe. It will leave next month.

In announcing this Wednesday the Army said the move was planned some time ago.

The Redstone, currently the Army's longest range surface-to-surface ballistic missile, has a range of 200 miles and can carry a nuclear warhead.

The unit tapped for the transfer is the 46th Artillery Group, now stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla. The 46th has 650 officers and men and two Redstone firing batteries — each equipped with one launcher.

The first Redstone unit was sent to Europe last year and is attached to the 7th Army in Germany. On Capitol Hill, Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy was quoted Wednesday as saying the United States has the military power to back up a firm stand at Berlin. McElroy appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in support of President Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

Celtics in Gear For NBA Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Celtics have their eyes on the St. Louis Hawks and Minneapolis Lakers. One of these most likely will be their opposition for the National Basketball Assn. championship.

The Celtics served notice Wednesday night that they fully intend to defend their Eastern crown as they swamped the Syracuse Nats, 131-109 in the first game of the Eastern division final playoff.

And the Lakers eliminated Detroit in the Western division best-of-three semifinals with a 129-102 lacing. They will meet St. Louis in the first game for the division title Saturday night. Both division finals are best-of-seven affairs.

Bob Cousy's playmaking and the rebounding of Bill Russell, spearheaded the Boston offense, but Syracuse's George Yardley led all scorers with 30 points. Tommy Heinsohn led Boston scorers with 28 points.

Late in the third period at Minneapolis, Bob Leonard sparked a Laker rally which broke a 77-77 deadlock and put his club ahead. High man for the night was Gene Shue of Detroit with 31. Elgin Baylor got 30 for the Lakers.

Mention Johnston As Cervi Successor

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Neil Johnston was being mentioned prominently today as a possible successor to Al Cervi as head coach of the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn. Cervi resigned Wednesday to return to his job as an executive with a Rochester, N.Y., trucking firm. He said he was quitting the insecurity of coaching for the security of business.

Johnston, a star player with the Warriors in recent years, was sidelined most of the 1958-1959 season with a knee injury. He played some at the end of the season and is expected to return to action next campaign.

Cervi had one year to go on a two-year contract, but owner Eddie Gottlieb made no effort to retain him.

Rangers Need 2 To Gain Playoff

Less than two weeks ago the New York Rangers were so confident of a spot in the National Hockey League Stanley Cup playoff that the management started selling tickets.

Now they are in serious trouble after suffering their fifth straight defeat Wednesday night as they fell before the Boston Bruins 5-3 before 11,755 at New York's Madison Square Garden.

The Bruins, winning their fifth straight, wrapped up second place.

The Broadway Blues can clinch the fourth and last two games by winning their last two games regardless of what the fifth-place Toronto Maple Leafs do in their remaining three games or the last-place Detroit Red Wings in their last two. Today the Rangers hold a three-point margin over the Leafs and four over the Wings.

New Lift Regulations Add 12 Hours to Shad Fish Week

An amendment to commercialize fishing regulations just approved by Conservation Commissioner Harold G. Wilm promises New York State fishermen at a more bountiful supply this year of that famous spring-time treat—the Hudson River shad.

According to this year's netting order, stake and drift nets may be operated in the Hudson River to take shad from 6 a. m. Eastern Standard Time on Sundays to 6 a. m. E.S.T. on the following Fridays during the open season, March 15 to June 1. Thus, the new Department order permits an additional 12 hours of fishing each week by cutting the previous 60 hour lift period to 48 hours—the time each week when nets must be out of the water to permit shad to reach the up-river spawning grounds.

At the same time, the New Jersey Division of Fish and Game, in accordance with a long-standing agreement for cooperative action on shad fishing regulations, has taken steps to establish the same lift regulations for fishermen in its section of the Hudson River.

While the shad season opened officially on March 15, it's not expected there will be any shad in the river until late March, at the earliest, officials said. Cold water and floe ice must yield to warmer spring weather before these big silvery fish will begin their annual trek to the upstream spawning areas.

The more generous fishing regulations should act, Department fisheries men said, to increase the catch of shad this year. The Hudson River shad run has been on the upgrade, they said, due in part, to the longer net lift period and limited fishing effort in recent years because of low market price.

New Feather King Moore Worried About Tonsils

By PATRICK MCNULTY

LOS ANGELES (AP)—New world featherweight champion Davey Moore said today his next encounter will not be the promised rematch with ex-champ Hogan (Kid) Bassey, but with a set of inflamed tonsils.

"Those doggone tonsils almost cost me the chance at the title," said Moore who Wednesday night lifted the crown from the bloody but unbowed head of the well-muscled ex-champ from British Nigeria.

"Davey had a sore throat and a 101-degree temperature last Sunday," said his manager, Willie Ketchum. "I almost called off the fight."

But the sharpshooting Moore showed no signs of illness as he slashed Bassey's face into a grotesque, bloody mask before 10,129 wildly shouting fans in Olympic Auditorium.

After the 13th round, Bassey's manager, George Biddies, shouted to referee Tommy Hart: "Stop the fight. My fighter has it." "I couldn't see. I couldn't see," Bassey yelled above the din. "The blood was running in my eyes."

Moore hopped gleefully across the ring, threw his arm about Bassey and shouted: "Well, it's like this, Hoag—you had that title and I wanted it, man."

"Yes, Yes," said Bassey in his clipped British West African accent. "I could not continue. I could not do an impossibility."

It was the third time Bassey had been stopped on cut eyes.

A rematch is slated within 90 days in Los Angeles. However, Moore's tonsil operation probably too, Bassey's eye cuts may take longer than three months to heal.

Moore admitted he was a bit tense in the opening rounds. He looked too good, too strong and too hard-looking Bassey blazed away with his murderous left hook.

In the third round Moore jabbed open a cut over the champion's right eye.

"Get the eye. Get the eye," counseled manager Ketchum between rounds. And Moore did exactly that. By the seventh, the champion's face was a puddle of blood.

Bassey picked up a guaranteed $45,000 plus television rights. Moore was guaranteed 20 per cent of the gate of $85,602. Moore weighed 125½, Bassey 125.

Clean Slate

NEW YORK (NEA)—Archie Moore's last seven championship bouts ended in knockouts. Defending his light-heavyweight crown, Archie stopped Harold Johnson, Bobo Olson, Yolande Pompey, Tony Anthony, and Yvon Durelle. Going for the heavyweight title, he was flattened by Rocky Marciano and Floyd Patterson.

State Tourney Slated to Start Tomorrow Night

Kingston Biddy League all-stars will take a trip to Syracuse tomorrow and will compete in the New York State Biddy League basketball tournament. The local stars will play the Onondaga County stars at 7:45 p. m. Friday night at Solvay High School, outside Syracuse. If the club is successful it will play Saturday at 6:30 p. m. for the championship. The winning team will travel to Wichita, Kansas in April for the national tourney.

The biddy league stars from Kingston include Bill Henry, Jim Dougherty, Garry VanEtten, Bob Chilson, Gregg Munson, Vince Fisher, Wayne Bock, Eddie Mills, Lance Sussin, Larry Marcus, Tom Lucas and Dan Heppner. Coaching the boys will be Mickey Kyff and Frank "Bing" VanEtten. Andy Murphy, Recreation Commission superintendent, will also make the trip. The team and coaches will leave tomorrow at noon.

Biddy league basketball is for boys between 8 and 12 years old. It is almost the same as Little League baseball as far as the age group is concerned. The game is played on a smaller court and the baskets are eight feet from the floor instead of the ten in regulation basketball.

The game of golf is of Dutch origin and first was played on ice.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

LAKELAND, Fla. — (NEA) — For eight years now the Tigers have won the American League pennant in the spring and then faded away peacefully, seven times into the second division.

"We're not playing it that way this year," said Willis Patrick Norman, the homespun manager brought up from the chain early last June after 27 years in the minors.

Norman was reminded that Detroit last season missed the first division by only a half game, dropping to fifth in losing to Cleveland the final day.

"That dog won't hunt," said Norman, who was changing his clothes at Lakeland's Henley Field. "Pennants are won the first week as well as the last."

NORMAN, 6-3, AND DOWN TO A conservative 230 pounds, has toned down all his expressions developed during his long run as a minor league outfielder and manager, but one of them pops out every now and then. The Tigers are "my goats." The pitcher is the "man on the anther." A fireballer "hums that seed."

Norman is extremely popular with the hired hands. He learned to manage the hard way and baseball men consider him a superior judge of talent.

Norman summed up the Detroit prospects quickly before taking off for St. Petersburg and the varsity game with the Cardinals 60 miles away. In the morning, he had divided his time between a B game at Henley Field and Tigertown, a mile down the pike, where youngsters work on four fields.

Norman isn't afraid to talk, joins Casey Stengel of the Yankees in adding badly needed splashes of color to the American League. "I believe we have improved the right side of our infield and our pitching and catching," said the old outfielder. "Billy Martin could not put it in contention as a shortstop and was handicapped by having a kid (Bertie) at third base."

So the Tigers dealt for the right side of the Washington infield, Rocky Bridges and Eddie Yost.

"BRIDGES WAS THE ALL-STAR shortstop," reminded Norman. "He hit .300 until our Frank Lary broke his jaw with a pitched ball."

Yost dropped by as we were discussing Bridges, and was asked about the stocky Texan who first came around with Brooklyn a dozen years ago.

"Rocky has no great range," explained Yost, "but he has good hands and plays the hitters."

Yost, who had a longer tenure in Washington than Sam Rayburn, dropped his player representative role to concentrate on being a corking lead-off man. He is walking every time you look up, and there are Harvey Kuenn, Al Kaline, Gail Harris and Chaley Maxwell to hit behind him.

"Last season we needed another big pitcher and a relief man to go with Larry, Paul Foytack, Jim Bunning and Billy Hoelt." Norman went on. "We got both in the Cleveland deal for Martin. Ray Narleski and Don Mossi round out our staff."

Norman has an eye on two or three recruit pitchers, too, notably Jim Raugh, a right-hander from Birmingham with a sinker, and Pete Burnside, a left-hander who had three trials with the Giants.

LOU BERBERET WAS ACQUIRED from Boston to help Red Wilson with the catching.

Now all Norman is looking for is the long ball and an early start by Kaline. Maxwell is the hope for the long ball. His home run output dropped from 28 in 1956 and 24 in '57 to 13 last trip, when he was ill a couple of times.

"Briggs Stadium is one of the best hitting parks in baseball, 325 feet at one foul line and 340 at the other," Norman pointed out. "The hitter's background is perfect, yet we have been out-homered there for seven straight years."

Someone reminded him that Larry Osborne, a first baseman from Charleston, and Earl Hersh, drafted from Milwaukee's Wichita roster, hit the ball a fair piece.

"That's what I like to hear," said Big Bill Norman.

Spadas Upset DeWitts in Y 'C' Tilt; Elstons in Second

Regular season play in the YMCA "C" League ended last night — none too soon for the championship DeWitt's who were upset, 54-50, by Spada's.

In the companion piece, Miron romped to a 54-41 victory over Elston's Sport Shop, and that tide up the league's second-place standings.

The second place quintet got their surprise victory with the help of Terry Corkery who dumped in 20 points, and scored four of those as the winning points in the last two minutes of play on layups.

The victory ended the regular season in this order:

	W	L
DeWitt's	10	4
Elston's	8	7
Spada's	8	7
Miron	3	11

Ken Sicker and Bill McDermott assisted Corkery in the scoring column with 12 and 11 points apiece. The Caddies big guns were Richy Marcus (13), Jay Neer (13) and Bill Huber (10).

Elston's loss to last-place Miron left them in a tie for second, and no playoff planned.

Bob Dunn and Kenn Riggins scored 15 and 10 for Miron, while Erwin Silling (15) and Tom Prisco (10) topped the Elston's scoring.

Training Camp Switch Proves Tonic to Bosox

By JIM KENSIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

It's beginning to look as if the Boston Red Sox were right as rain when they forsook Florida for Arizona this spring.

The Red Sox ran their exhibition game record to 9-1 Wednesday with a 14-7 victory over Cleveland, while rain washed out the Florida training games for the third consecutive day.

True, the tendency is to discount baseball records compiled before opening day, but it is also the tendency for the sun to shine in Florida during late March.

If nothing else, the Red Sox must be giving American League managers in Florida something to think about between cancellations.

With only four teams training in Arizona, their records naturally are not as representative as those of the 12 Florida clubs who meet a wider variety of opponents.

The Red Sox victory breakdown shows 4 over the Indians, 3 over the San Francisco Giants and two over the Chicago Cubs. Only Cleveland has beaten the Bosox, and the Tribe did it with the benefit of a ninth inning error.

Wednesday it was a case of too much Bosox power. Rookie Pumpsie Green hit two homers and Dick Gernert and Billy Conson one apiece among 21 hits off four Indians' pitchers, including loser Cal McLish.

Rocky Colavito, the major league slugging leader in 1958, belted his fifth spring homer for the Indians.

At Phoenix, in the day's only other game, it also rained hits as San Francisco outslugged the Cubs 11-8. The Giants had 14 safeties, Chicago 13, including a homer by veteran Al Dark. The Giants trailed by five runs, going into the seventh, but scored four times that inning and five times in the eighth.

No Clear Favorite In St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — No clear favorite has emerged as 150 golfers begin play today in the first round of the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open championship.

They tee off on a course made soggy by four straight days of heavy rain. Most of the touring pros didn't even get in their accustomed practice rounds because of the weather.

Some observers pick Arnold Palmer, the defending champion from Latrobe, Pa., to repeat. Others picked Paul Harney's sizzling 19-under par in last week's Pensacola (Fla.) Open. Others like three of the hottest golfers on the tour this winter — Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa.; Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif.; and John McMullin of Fair Oaks, Calif.

California Keglers 2nd in ABC Double

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two California newsmen who stayed up all night to take instruction from famed professional Don Carter took over second place in the doubles of the American Bowling Congress Tournament Wednesday.

Grover Smith and Jim Todd rolled 1314, just two pins shy of the 1316 posted by the leaders, brothers Glen and Bob Gersch of Chicago.

All Tuesday night, Smith and Todd bowled with Carter at a St. Louis County ally in preparation for the tournament.

"Carter put 100 pins on my total with the help he gave me," said Todd. "He showed me just how to swing my arm."

Todd, 41, is farm director of radio station KFI in Los Angeles and writes bowling copy for the station. Smith, 66, is bowling writer for the Pasadena Independent.

Neither Paraguay nor Bolivia, has a sea coast or seaport.

Seven members of the Colgate University boxing team and a contingent of leather-swingers from the Plattsburgh Boys Club have been added to the two-day Adirondack AAU Golden Gloves opening Friday at 8 p. m. in the municipal auditorium.

The upstate entries are expected to add considerable luster to the program sponsored by the Roundout Valley Lions Club in boxing's return to its local hallowed environs where amateur fighters—some of them later turned professional—enjoyed their greatest hours.

Before TV

The Colgate unit, coached by the university's boxing tutor, Bob Piper, and the Plattsburgh entries, together with some of the state's outstanding amateurs, will capture some of the nostalgic past—an era which preceded the orthicon tube.

The Red Raiders team includes Joch Estabrooke and Rich Jouenbrig, 165-pound novices, and, also in the novice class, Dony Reed, 156 pounds; Dick Hamilton, 178; Bud Wilkenson, 147, and heavyweights John Hancock and Bud Morris.

Plattsburgh, coached by Frank DeCarlo, will be headed by heavyweight Paul Savage (185) who will box in the open class. Savage, Vermont open state champion for the past three years, and holder of the AAU novice championship, is a 23-year-old steel worker who has captured 17 of 24 bouts.

Buddy DeCarlo, the coach's son, is defending 147-pound Open champ and a football player at Plattsburgh High School. His record is 9-6 in the ring.

Teacher Student

Others include Benny Baker, 165-lb novice entry, a 19-year-old student at Plattsburgh State Teachers College; Bob Smart, 132-lb novice boxer and a three-letter winner at Plattsburgh High.

Traveling with them are Bob Thompson, 125-lb novice; Ronald Fink, 165-lb novice; Ronnie Garrow, 119-lb novice; Larry Baxter, 139, an 18-year-old student at Plattsburgh High, and Wayne Averill, 112-lb novice.

The weigh-in and examinations will be held Friday at 4 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Flaherty Returns

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (NEA)—Pat Flaherty, winner of the 1956 Indianapolis 500, makes his return to automobile racing in United States Auto Club races at the new Daytona Beach International Speedway on April 4.

Convicted Woman Begins Fight to Escape Gas Death

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Elizabeth Duncan, smiling and blushing on the witness stand, is fighting death in the gas chamber. The convicted murderess has begun testimony in her own behalf before a jury which is to decide her penalty—death or life imprisonment.

The jury is the same one which on Monday convicted Mrs. Duncan of murdering the father of her attractive daughter-in-law, Mrs. Duncan, 30.

Mrs. Duncan, 54, was found guilty of hiring Luis Moya and Augustine Baldonado to strangle Olga. The prosecution contended she was so jealous of her 30-year-old son, Frank, that she couldn't bear to lose him to another woman.

The defendant Wednesday answered questions about her 11 marriages breezily, sometimes almost gaily.

Any penalty set by the jury won't become effective until disposition of Mrs. Duncan's secondary plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

Churches Urged To Take Part in Civilian Defense

Members of the Kingston Seventh-day Adventist Church have been called on to make contributions to civilian defense and especially to take first aid training.

The advice was given in New York City Tuesday at the quadrennial convention of the Atlantic Union Conference of Adventists by its director of welfare services, Lemuel E. Esteb.

Attending the four-day convention from this city is the Rev. Eric R. Norman, pastor of the local church.

The local minister, one of more than 600 delegates to the party, heard the church official urge that local churches take immediate steps toward accelerating civilian defense preparations and welfare activities.

Resolutions passed Tuesday by the quadrennial business meeting reaffirmed the church's traditional stand in opposition to use of public tax funds to support operation of any parochial school and against Sunday closing legislation.

Clayton H. Kelly, secretary-treasurer of the conference, reported to delegates that Adventists in the seven-state area and Bermuda represented by his conference contributed $13,704,973.59 in tithes and mission offerings in the past quadrennial period, a per capita of $620.61 or $155.15 a year, one of the highest per capita of any Adventist unit.

A two-day ministerial institute started Wednesday. The Rev. Mr. Norman will return to Kingston Thursday night and is expected to give a report of the convention to the local congregation Saturday morning.

Coal Operators Ask Restraint of United Mine Work

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The eastern Kentucky coal strikes enter a new area today—the courtroom.

The strikes, which have idled more than 7,000 men, already have produced charges of violence and a request for National Guardsmen.

After Gov. A. B. Chandler refused his plea, the Pike County Coal Operators Assn. said it will seek relief by asking for a restraining order against the United Mine Workers.

The association, with some 200 members, reaffirmed its decision not to sign the new contract raising the basic wage from $22.25 to $24.25.

"We intend to halt all our mining operations until the court decides on the order," said Robert Holcomb, association president. It was Holcomb who petitioned the governor for troops but Chandler replied that state police have the situation in hand.

Advised of the association's plans, Carson Hibbitts, president of UMW District 30, commented: "I am confident we will get fair and impartial treatment from all concerned."

Hibbitts said the union is "a law-abiding organization and will abide by whatever decision the courts may hand down today."

Issue in the strike—it involves Pike, Bell, Harlan, Perry and Letcher counties—go deeper than the wage dispute.

Some operators say the UMW and the large coal firms are trying to put the small owners out of business. They point the finger of suspicion at the protective wage clause, which forbids union mines from buying or processing coal from pits not paying union scale.

Strictly enforced this would squeeze out many small operators who would have no market for their coal.

Reserve Order Changed

"MONTICELLO, N. Y. (AP)—Orders to move the Army reserve unit here to Upstate Elizabethtown have been countermanded.

The transfer originally had been ordered three weeks ago by the 2nd Army Corps to become effective June 1. It involved about 150 men in company A, 854th Engineers Battalion.

The unit received Wednesday a telegram from Rep. Katharine St. George (R-N.Y.) countermanding the removal order. She gave no indication of what prompted the change.

Driver Is Fined $25 After Trial in Esopus

Joseph D. Edwards of 16 Delta Place, Kingston, was found guilty of reckless driving Wednesday night after a jury trial before Justice John O. Beaver at the Town of Esopus municipal building in Port Ewen. Because of extenuating circumstances a nominal fine of $25 was imposed.

Edwards was arrested by Trooper P. M. Loungo of the Highland station following an accident on December 23, last, south of Tropical Inn Port Ewen, in which the Edwards car and that of Angeline Montella of Ulster Park were involved.

Charles Saccoman appeared for Edwards and Assistant District Attorney James Murray of Ellenville appeared for The People. Testimony was introduced to the effect that the accident took place on the plaintiff's side of the road.

Says Legion Will Resist Further VA Hospital Cuts

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Arnold E. Swanson, state commander of the American Legion, says the Legion will continue to resist any further cutbacks and reductions at Veterans' Administration hospitals in the state.

Addressing a dinner Wednesday night commemorating the 40th anniversary of the Legion, he warned of "the danger of a deterioration of services to disabled veterans."

Cutbacks at the veterans hospital at Castle Point, Dutchess County, were announced at the dinner. Vincent A. Cahill, of Newburgh, former Orange County commander of the legion, said the hospital's original 600 beds will be cut to 230 this June and to 200 in June 1960.

Funeral of Heiress To Be Held Friday

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Funeral services will be held Friday for Mrs. Muriel McCormick Hubbard, an heiress to both the Rockefeller and McCormick fortunes who served in the U.S. Women's Army Corps during World War II.

She died Wednesday of a heart ailment at the age of 56. Mrs. Hubbard was the granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller Sr. and Cyrus McCormick, inventor of the reaper. Her personal estate was estimated at $40 million dollars.

She died in Grace-New Haven Hospital, which she entered three weeks ago. Funeral services will be held at Holy Trinity Church in Middletown, Conn., where she maintained one of her five homes.

Non-Hill Golf Course

NORTH-HORR, Mass. (AP)—Two physicians are planning what they call a nonconformity golf course.

Drs. John Decicco and Pasquale Tomaio asked the Northboro selectmen Wednesday night for permission to construct a nonhilly 18-hole course.

They said they also would need a permit from the Westboro selectmen as the course would straddle both towns.

Printers' Talks Are Broken Off

NEW YORK (AP)—Efforts to head off a threatened strike of printers against 10 daily newspapers here were at an impasse today.

Mediation sessions were recessed Wednesday, and no date was set for resumption of negotiations between the Publishers Assn. of New York City and New York Typographical Union 6.

To Restudy Issues

Both sides, however, agreed to restudy the issues in dispute and to hold themselves subject to call for the next meeting, said Commissioner Bernard J. Forman of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

A union membership meeting last Sunday voted unanimously to ask its parent organization, the International Typographical Union, for authorization to take a strike ballot.

The chief issue is resetting advertisements that come into newspaper offices in plate form. The publishers describe this as "bogus," or a form of featherbedding. The union calls it "reproduction of advertising."

Under past agreements, local display ads have been reset, but national ads have been exempt.

Other Issues Involved

A recent arbitration award classified certain ads by grocery chains as national, rather than local. The union is seeking to reverse the award through collective bargaining.

Other issues involve wages, hours, union discipline over foremen, and use of typesetter and other automatic printing devices.

The present wages are $12.8 a week for day work, $13.3 for night work and $13.8 for late night, or "lobster" shift. The basic work day is 7 1/2 hours on the first two shifts and 7 on the third.

The old contract expired Dec. 7.

Rubber Industry Leader, 83, Dies; Started at $2.500

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Paul Weeks Litchfield, dean of the American rubber industry and honorary chairman of the board of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., died in a Phoenix hospital Wednesday night.

The 83-year-old industrialist had undergone surgery at the hospital a week ago.

After a "career" spanning 61 years in the industry, Litchfield retired last October as board chairman and chief executive officer of Goodyear.

He had joined the firm in its infancy in Akron, Ohio, at a salary of $2,500 and played a leading role in its growth to one of the largest in the world with plants throughout the United States, at Sydney, Australia, New Toronto, Canada and Wolverhampton, England.

During World War II, he played a major part in the American program of synthetic rubber production.

Litchfield was born in Boston July 26, 1875.

Litchfield is survived by his widow, Florence; Branton Litchfield, and two daughters, Mrs. Howard (Katherine) Hyde of Akron and Mrs. A. Wallace (Edith) Denny of New Toronto.

Rehabilitation Committee Hears Service Reports

Members of the Rehabilitation Committee of Ulster County TB and Health Association at a meeting Tuesday heard reports of services for patients at Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and the Ulster County Infirmary, and discussed plans for the continuation of this phase of rehabilitation.

Charles Tarsia, occupational therapy worker at both institutions, exhibited an oil painting created by a seriously disabled youth who has to hold his brushes between his teeth because of extensive paralysis caused by an accident some time ago. Also exhibited were several pieces of colored stamps. These, the therapist reported, were created by a person on the other end of the age scale.

Report by committee chairman, indicated that at both institutions birthday remembrances continue to be a most popular and enjoyable feature. Tribute was paid the Young Married group at the YWCA who for three years have supplied birthday cakes for each patient at the TB hospital. The chairman of this sub-committee, Miss Catherine Cater, reported that many different groups help provide birthday cakes for the large number of patients at the infirmary. During this month the Ulster County TB and Health Association is the group. Other groups who have served during the past year are: Lions Club, DAR, Junior League, Ladies of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. Other committee groups who remember patients with gifts and cards include the Business and Professional Women of the YWCA, the Licensed Practical Nurses and the Granges.

Clifford Donohue, volunteer projectionist, who shows movies at the infirmary monthly, reported that during this past month Disney's "Nature's Half Acre" was also shown to patients at the TB Hospital and folks at the Home for the Aged, and was used by a number of other community groups.

Raphael Klein, entertainment chairman, reported that monthly programs for patients at the TB Hospital are planned and would be announced as dates are confirmed. Mrs. Clare Dickert, chairman for scheduling refreshments for monthly programs at the TB Hospital, reported a schedule completed for 1959. Mrs. Jacob Myers is the chairman of a committee who serve refreshments.

Miss Rose Marie Feeney, medical worker with the Department of Welfare, expressed appreciation for the many services rendered the infirmary patients. Mrs. Feeney, in speaking of needs at the infirmary, said a project in which she hoped a community group would be interested, was to provide an additional "Lift Eze." She described this as an important piece of equipment used in lifting patients from bed to chair. "Several lifts have been purchased by the Department of Welfare," she said, "but another one would be a great boon to the folks caring for the patients." It was also pointed out that patients are moved with far less discomfort with such equipment.

Miss Hazel M. Steed, executive director of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, reviewed recent discussions with Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director at the TB Hospital, on the program of rehabilitation for TB patients. She spoke for Dr. Schwartz who could not be present at the meeting due to other commitments. Miss Steed announced that a four year demonstration carried on by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, in providing salary for the occupational therapist has been completed and the worker will carry on now as an employee of the county. "Our Association has already received requests for demonstrations in other fields which are now in the planning stage," Miss Steed said.

Miss Feeney who is president of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies, reported on that group's year long series of meetings with speakers on the many phases of rehabilitation. The latest she said was the report given this month by Miss Eleanor Green of the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, who gave facts and figures on workshops for the handicapped.

Miss Steed said that the 1958 Christmas Seals sale funds received exceeded the amount in 1957. "The 1957 Christmas Seals sale records are now being completed," she said, "and a report will be released at a later date."

Following the meeting, St. Patrick's Day refreshments, provided by members of the committee, were served by Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Donohue and Mrs. Dickert.
